CQ, 1996 Access Management Manual, 2003 This manual provides technical information on access management techniques together with information on how access management programs can be effectively developed and administered. It addresses issues of relevance to state, regional and local practitioners and discusses the variety of circumstances or situational factors that agencies may face. It takes a comprehensive approach to access management in an effort to integrate planning and engineering practices with the transportation and land use decisions that contribute to access outcomes. Practical information on a range of issues and applications was incorporated throughout the various chapters.

United States. State and Private Forestry. Southeastern Area, 1982 Total Materials Management Eugene L. Magad, 2013-03-09 Materials management has become an important activity in both manufacturing and service organizations. Rapid changes in the industrial environment such as the introduction of automation and Just In Time and demands for increased productivity and quality have increased the need for all personnel to be concerned with total control of materials. Clearly this trend will continue and materials management will play an increasingly vital role in organizational success especially for operations that are becoming automated. Materials management will be more critical in many service organizations where the materials group has received little attention in the past. This book covers the basic materials management function and provides valuable insights into various other major functions related to it. We believe that each of these manufacturing, marketing, finance, quality assurance and engineering is vitally involved in materials management and any coverage of the subject that excludes these functions offers too narrow a perspective. With increasing demand for materials managers, human resource requirements will be satisfied by individuals trained within the discipline and by personnel who have worked in other fields. The dimensions of materials management have grown so rapidly that many practicing managers are not aware that they are fulfilling material management functions. It is important that all individuals have the basic knowledge required to perform their roles in these organizations.

Statistical Abstract of the United States ,1989 Access Control Design on Highway Interchanges ,2008

The adequate spacing and design of access to crossroads in the vicinity of freeway ramps are critical to the safety and traffic operations of both the freeway and the crossroad The research presented in this report develops a methodology to evaluate the safety impact of different access road spacing standards The results clearly demonstrate the shortcomings of the AASHTO standards and the benefits of enhancing them The models developed as part of this research were used to compute the crash rate associated with alternative section spacing The study demonstrates that the models satisfied the statistical requirements and provide reasonable crash estimates The results demonstrate an eight fold decrease in the crash rate when the access road spacing increases from 0 to 300 m An increase in the minimum spacing from 90 m 300 ft to 180 m 600 ft results in a 50 percent reduction in the crash rate The models were used to develop lookup tables that quantify the impact of access road spacing on the expected number of crashes per unit distance The tables demonstrate a decrease in the crash rate as the access road spacing increases An attempt was made to quantify the safety cost of alternative access road spacing using a weighted average crash cost The weighted average crash cost was computed considering that 0 6 34 8 and 64 6 percent of the crashes were fatal injury and property damage crashes respectively These proportions were generated from the field observed data The cost of each of these crashes was provided by VDOT as 3 760

000 48 200 and 6 500 for fatal injury and property damage crashes respectively. This provided an average weighted crash cost of $43 533. This average cost was multiplied by the number of crashes per mile to compute the cost associated with different access spacing scenarios. These costs can assist policy makers in quantifying the trade offs of different access management regulations.
