Discipline Problems Tadashi Dozono, 2024-05-07 Angel a Black tenth grader at a New York City public school self identifies as a nerd and likes to learn But she s troubled that her history classes leave out events like the genocide and dispossession of Indigenous people in the Americas presenting a sugar coated image of the United States that is at odds with her everyday experience The history I learned in school is simpler she says The world I live in is a lot more complex Angel like every student interviewed in Discipline Problems has been identified by teachers as a troublemaker a student whose behavior disrupts classroom norms and interferes with instruction But her critiques of the curriculum she s taught speak to her curiosity and insight crucial foundations for understanding history Like many students who have been marginalized by systemic racism in American schools she exposes the shortcomings of her classrooms academic environments by challenging both the content and the methods of her education All too often these challenges are framed as troublemaking and the students are disciplined for acting out instead of being rewarded for their intellectual engagement Tadashi Dozono a professor of education and former high school social studies teacher takes seriously the often overlooked critiques that students of color who get labeled as troublemakers direct toward their high school history curriculum He reinterprets troublemaking usually cast as a behavioral deficit as an intellectual asset and form of reasoning that challenges the disciplining reason of classrooms where whiteness is valued over the histories and knowledge of people of color Dozono shows how what are traditionally framed as discipline problems can be seen through a different lens as responses to educational practices that marginalize non white students Discipline Problems reveals how students of color seek out alternate avenues for understanding their world and imagines a pedagogy that champions the curiosity intellect and knowledge of marginalized learners Resources in Education ,2000 Journal of Educational Method ,1928 Report

Browne,2024-10-16 For people who were poor black and from the working class growing up in a British Caribbean colony during the 1900s was a very difficult experience However from about the 1930s enlightenment ideological challenges and change were finding sound footing in the area more than ever before During that time British control and exploitation of the islands were being disrupted and challenged aggressively by labor unionists and Pan Africanists Further by the mid 1900s the British interest in and their ability to manage the islands successfully were failing At that time there was the disruptive political thrust from local labor unionists for changes in the islands story That emerging new leadership saw and promoted education as a necessary path to the future for working class people in the islands After the author learned to read having been encouraged by an older sister he read widely from the books available and his life began to experience transformation The author noted that his love for reading plus a growing exposure to education initiated the change and inspiration beyond the limiting society and thinking into which he was born In time Whitman s academic push helped him to become an educator mountain climber long distance swimmer photographer and more In all the changes which have come to the islands of St Kitts and Nevis he sees the local leaders push against the evils of British colonialism In time there was enlightenment and growth from education also through the love and inspiration of God Those were major forces which contributed to the reformation now seen in lives and around the islands In this book My Birth Was Not Destiny the author looks back at his life in Nevis and beyond He attributes his successes to focused struggles the illuminating power of education and God s continuing intent to intervene in human lives always for good Dr Browne also expresses a truth that his children students the community and the wider world as a result of education and careful academic concentration can in time

learn grow have their own sense of a transformative experience as their lives become inspired and refashioned Over time they too will reach toward the future intending to leave special markings on the sands of their time The School

Reporter ,1870 Social Studies Education in South and South East Asian Contexts Kerry J Kennedy,2021-07-22 The education of young people is context bound This edited volume explores the contexts that characterise South and South East Asia and their influence on social studies education There is not a single context across this broad geographical expanse rather different religions different political systems and different values exert influences that create distinctive programmes that characterise different countries Yet there are also commonalities such as the post colonial nature of most of the countries portrayed in this book determined efforts at establishing new national communities and multiple value systems that lead to distinctive local priorities There are also voices of resistance in these chapters recognising the realities of local contexts but also recognising the need for change Social studies education in these contexts may well be descended from its origins in North America but in South and South Asian contexts it has taken on new purposes new forms and new values Education researchers policymakers and postgraduate students in comparative education will find the volume useful in its exploration and comparison of the social studies curricular and reforms that shaped them Teacher's Skills Tests For
