Privatization Graeme Hodge,2018-03-09 Contracting out public sector services and divesting public enterprises are reforms that have enjoyed widespread global popularity in recent years Better services lower prices and greater accountability are the promises made by politicians senior executives and investment companies when functions are moved from the public sector to private enterprise But in Privatization Graeme A Hodge challenges these assumptions Through an examination of hundreds of international studies on the performance of privatization activities Hodge demonstrates that privatizing public services is often not the guaranteed panacea portrayed by its political supporters Importantly privatization activities can lead to modest gains but there are also winners and losers in this reform It therefore deserves far more care and balanced debate than it usually attracts

Hodge, Carsten Greve, Anthony E. first presented at the 2007 ANZSOG Conference draw on the extensive experience of the contributors in either trying to enact collaboration or studying the processes of this phenomenon Together the collection provides important insights into the potential of collaboration but also the fiercely stubborn barriers to adopting more collaborative approaches to policy and implementation The collection includes chapter from public servants third sector managers and both Australian and international academics which together make it a stimulating read for those working with or within government It adds considerably to the debate about how to address current challenges of public policy and provides a significant resource for those interested in the realities of collaborative governance

The Routledge Handbook of Global Public Policy and Administration Thomas R. Klassen,Denita Cepiku,T. J. Lah,2016-11-10 The Routledge Handbook of Global Public Policy and Administration is a comprehensive leading edge guide for students scholars and practitioners of public policy and administration Public policy and administration are key aspects of modern societies that affect the daily lives of all citizens. This handbook examines current trends and reforms in public policy and administration such as financial regulation, risk management, public health, e-government, and many others at the local, national, and international levels. The two themes of the book are that public policy and administration have acquired an important global aspect and that a critical role for government is the regulation of capital. The handbook is organized into three thematic sections: Contemporary Challenges, Policy and Administration Responses, and Forging a Resilient Public Administration to allow readers to quickly access knowledge and improve their understanding of topics. The opening chapter introduces the sections and an extensive glossary aids readers to most effectively learn from the book. Each chapter provides a balanced overview of current knowledge, identifying issues and discussing relevant debates. The book is written by authors from Europe, Asia, North and South America, Africa, and Australia.

The FIRE Economy Jane Kelsey, 2015-07-13. The FIRE economy, built on finance, insurance, and real estate, is now the world's principal source of wealth creation. Its rise has transformed our political, economic, and social landscapes, supported by a neoliberal regime that celebrates markets, profit, and risk. From rising inequality and ballooning household debt to a global financial crisis and fiscal austerity, the neoliberal orthodoxy has brought instability and empowered the few. Yet it remains remarkably resilient, even resurgent in New Zealand and abroad. In 1995, Jane Kelsey set out a groundbreaking account of the neoliberal revolution in The New Zealand Experiment. Now she marshals an exceptional range of evidence to show how this transfer of wealth and power has been systematically embedded over three decades. Today, organisations and commentators once at the vanguard of neoliberal reform, including the IMF and Financial Times journalist Martin Wolf, are warning the current model is unsustainable. A post-neoliberal era beckons. In The FIRE Economy, Kelsey identifies the risks posed by FIRE and the barriers embedded neoliberalism presents to a progressive post-neoliberal transformation and urges us to act. This is a book New Zealand cannot afford to ignore.

Public Private Partnerships Sara Valaguzza, Eduardo Parisi, 2020-01-31. This insightful book critically examines the phenomenon of public-private partnerships through a global theoretical lens. It considers the reasons for merging private entities and public administration, as well as the processes and consequences of doing so. The benefits for the community, as well as the radical changes in the principles and modalities of administrative activity, are theorized and discussed.

Governing through Regulation Eric Windholz, 2017-06-26. Over the past forty years, numerous theoretical advances have been made. From Ayres and Braithwaite's ground-breaking work on responsive regulation, we have seen models of smart regulation, regulatory governance, and regulatory capitalism emerge to capture the growing prevalence and importance of regulation in modern liberal Western capitalist societies. Important advances also have been made in the practice of regulation, with regulators evolving from traditional enforcement focussed command and control models to being modern regulators with a suite of diverse and innovative regulatory tools at their disposal. The book presents and critically examines these theoretical and practical developments from the perspective of governments who design regulations and the regulators that deploy them In doing so the book examines the various forces and interests that influence and shape the regulatory endeavour and the practical challenges facing governments and regulators when deciding whether and how to regulate This volume is a study of regulation in context in the context of the public policy it is designed to deliver the law that enables shapes and holds it to account and the evolving societal and institutional frameworks within which it takes place Aimed to provide innovative cross disciplinary conceptual frameworks that regulators regulatees those whom regulation is intended to benefit and academics might employ to better understand and undertake the regulatory endeavour This will be of great interest to researchers educators advanced students and practitioners working in the fields of political science public management and administration and public policy

Immigration and the Financial Crisis John Higley, John P. Nieuwenhuysen, Stine Neerup, 2011 Structural needs for immigrant labour in health care restaurant tourism agricultural and other economic sectors together with harsher economic circumstances in most sending countries almost certainly ensure the continuation of large scale immigration to the US and Australia But in harder times especially in the US sustaining this immigration while managing immigrants economic and social integration are daunting tasks This illuminating book analyses how well and in what ways the US and Australia will meet these challenges This companion volume to Nations of Immigrants examines immigration to the US and Australia during the difficult economic times following the paralysis of financial firms and markets in New York and London during autumn 2008 quickly affecting Australia and most other OECD countries The contributors prominent American and Australian immigration specialists discuss how the financial crisis has altered the nexus of domestic labour markets and immigration how public fears spurred by harder times are affecting border protection and support for immigration whether serious abrasions between foreign and native born populations are being kindled and the extent to which the politics of immigration are being transformed Immigration and the Financial Crisis will prove a thought provoking read for academics and students with an interest in immigration and American and Australian policy arenas The book will also prove an invaluable reference tool for public servants engaged in administering US and Australian immigration policies

Public-Private Partnerships in European Union Law and Member States Jugoslava Vojnovic, 2023-11-25 This book investigates public private partnerships with special reference to the law of the European Union and the Member States It deals in detail with what public private partnerships are whether and how they are regulated and whether the concept carries meaning outside the regulatory framework Based on detailed analysis the author offers conclusions on how public private partnerships should develop and be regulated in practice and provides a solid basis including a comprehensive review of the relevant literature for further research This book will be important to researchers and students in political law and regulation as well as practitioners and policy makers Although the examples studied are from the European Union the conclusions will be applicable worldwide

Regulating Next Generation Agri-Food Biotechnologies Michael Howlett, David Laycock, 2013-05-07 Agri food bio technology policy and regulation is transitioning from an early period focused on genetic engineering technologies to next generation rules and regulatory processes linked to challenges originating in a wide variety of new technological processes and applications Can lessons learned from past and current regulatory oversights of agricultural biotechnology and other high technology sectors help us address new and emerging regulatory challenges in the agri food genetics sector The expert contributors in this volume discuss the experiences of a wide range of North American European and Asian countries with high technology regulation to address four key questions related to the past and future development of agri food genomics regulation across the globe how unique is agri food biotechnology regulation and how can it be evaluated using the existing tools of regulatory analysis developed in examinations of other sectors is a government to governance model of regulatory regime development found in many other sectors relevant in this rapidly evolving sphere of activity is a stages model of regulatory regime development accurate And if so at which stage are we currently positioned in the regulation of agri food genomics products and technologies what drives movement between stages in different countries and sectors In assessing such drivers what are the key links between sectoral meso developments and more general macro and micro developments such as international relations and administrative behaviour By updating extending and challenging earlier empirical and theoretical social science perspectives on agricultural bio technological regulation this volume helps to inform future policy formulation It will be of interest to practitioners and students of biotechnology agriculture and science and technology policy and regulatory processes more generally

Corporate Regulation for Climate Change Mitigation in Africa Kikelomo O. Kila, 2022-09-08 This book critically analyses the prospects of overhauling the legal framework of climate change regulation of corporations in African state It adopts the dilute interventionism regulatory framework to tackle the culture of regulatory resistance by corporations in Africa Over the course of this volume Kikelomo O Kila critiques the climate change legal framework in all 53 African states and conducts an in depth case study of the two largest economies in Africa Nigeria and South Africa to highlight the commonality of the problems in Africa and the potential for the dilute interventionism paradigm to significantly address these problems The book establishes why African states should directly intervene through legislative mechanisms to compel corporations to incorporate climate change mitigation in their business activities It proposes that this direct intervention should comprise a blend of prescriptive and facilitative mechanisms structured in a dilute interventionism regulatory model Overall this volume argues that implementing this model requires the institution of a strong and independent regulator with a veto firewall protection system that guarantees its de facto independence from government and external influences

Corporate Regulation for Climate Change Mitigation in Africa will be of great interest to climate change stakeholders at the international regional and domestic levels policymakers regulatory practitioners and legal experts on corporate regulation It will also be an insightful resource for students and scholars of climate change and environmental law policy and governance
