Teaching U.S.-Educated Multilingual Writers Mark Roberge, Kay M. Losey, Margi Wald, 2015-06-04 This volume was born to address the lack of classroom oriented scholarship regarding U S educated multilingual writers Unlike prior volumes about U S educated multilinguals this book focuses solely on pedagogy from classroom activities and writing assignments to course curricula and pedagogical support programs outside the immediate classroom Unlike many pedagogical volumes that are written in the voice of an expert researcher theorist this volume is based on the notion of teachers sharing practices with teachers All of the contributors are teachers who are writing about and reflecting on their own experiences and outcomes and interweaving those experiences and outcomes with current theory and research in the field The volume thus portrays teachers as active reflective participants engaged in critical inquiry Contributors represent community college college and university contexts academic ESL developmental writing and first year composition classes and face to face hybrid and online contexts This book was developed primarily to meet the needs of practicing writing teachers in college level ESL basic writing and college composition classrooms but will also be useful to pre service teachers in TESOL Composition and Education graduate programs Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2002 Grammar for Writing 3 Joyce S. Cain, 2012 This student workbook presents techniques for and exercises in editing written English focusing specifically on the grammatical structures with which students most frequently have difficulty all to develop familiarity with the editing stage in the writing process grammar skills and comprehension The Publishers Weekly, 1922 American Doctoral Dissertations, 1989

The Rise of Pacific Literature Matthew Hayward, Maebh Long, 2024-09-03 In the 1960s and 1970s the staff and students of two newly founded universities in the Pacific Islands helped foster a golden age of Oceanian literature At the University of Papua New Guinea and the University of the South Pacific bold experiments in curriculum design recentered literary studies around a Pacific modernity Rejecting the established British colonial model writer scholars placed Pacific oratory and a growing body of Oceanian writing at the heart of the syllabus From this local core students ventured outward to contemporary postcolonial literatures where they saw modernist techniques repurposed for a decolonizing world Only then did they turn to foundational modernist texts encountered at last as a set of creative tools rather than a canon to be copied or learned by rote The Rise of Pacific Literature reveals the transformative role and radical adaptations of global modernisms in this golden age Maebh Long and Matthew Hayward examine the reading and teaching of Pacific oral narratives European and American modernisms and African Caribbean and Indian literature tracing how Oceanian writers appropriated and reworked key texts and techniques They identify the local innovations and international networks that spurred Pacific literature s golden age by reading crucial works against the poetry prose and plays on the syllabi of the new universities Placing internationally recognized writers such as Albert Wendt Subramani Konai Helu Thaman Marjorie Crocombe and John Kasaipwalova alongside lesser known authors of works published in Oceanian little magazines this book offers a wide ranging new account of Pacific literary history that tells a fresh story about modernism's global itineraries and transformations
