INTRODUCTION

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY OF MARILYNNE ROBINSON

Marilynne Robinson was born Marilynne Summers in Sandpoint, Idaho in 1942. She was close with her brother, who also grew up to become a writer and an art historian. After studying American Literature at Pomona College (the former women's college at Brown University), she went on to earn a doctorate in English from the University of Washington, where she wrote her dissertation on Shakespeare's Henry VI, Part 2. She penned Housekeeping in the late 1970s, and though she expected it to receive little attention, it became a subject of national acclaim and the winner of the prestigious PEN/Hemingway Award for best first novel. After the publication of Housekeeping, Robinson turned to nonfiction and completed several books of critical work—she would not release her last novel, Gilead, for over twenty years. In 2005, Gilead won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction, and Robinson wrote two follow-up novels, which follow the characters from Gilead over the course of the next ten years. She received a 2012 National Humanities Medal from President Barack Obama, and currently lives in Iowa City, where she is Professor Emerita and a former faculty member at the distinguished Iowa Writers' Workshop. She lectures regularly around the country and is honored to be at work on a fourth installment in the Gilead saga.

HISTORICAL CONTEXT

There is no explicit declaration within the text as to what year the events of the novel take place, but Robinson has stated in interviews that she imagines Housekeeping taking place in the 1970s. Robinson herself was born in 1942 in Sandpoint, Idaho—a small town on the edge of a vast lake—and no doubt the atmosphere of her hometown has made its way into the pages of her acclaimed novel. Though the women of Housekeeping seem both removed from and unmoored in the political and social world beyond—and even within—their small town, the characters' and townspeople's attitudes about Sylvia's transient ways and ambivalence about her mother's marriage reveal deeper fears about both the breakdown of the idyllic nuclear family unit as well as the idea of women seeking their "duties" and living in pursuit of their own physical, emotional, and intellectual freedoms.

RELATED LITERARY WORKS

One of Marilynne Robinson's primary influences is the composition of Housekeeping seems to be Henry David Thoreau. An American writer of the Transcendentalist style, his book Walden, about his life lived apart from society on the edge of an idyllic lake in Massachusetts, contains a deep reverence for nature, an ideological investigation of what it means to be a part of society, and the balance between and beauty of life itself. Robinson also takes inspiration in both her fiction and nonfiction from the sixteenth-century religious thinker and satirist John Calvin, whose magnum opus of thought on the Christian religion is known today as Institutes of the Christian Religion. The future Robinson's cousin—which began with Housekeeping, her first novel, in 1980—consists of an accomplished body of fiction and nonfiction which wrestles with the major questions facing humanity: love, responsibility, religion, science, and nature. The themes of memory, loss, and nature established within Housekeeping reemerge throughout her later novels, most prominently Gilead, and her works of nonfiction including Mother Country and When I Was a Child: Four Books.
