How I Long To Be With You War Letters Home:

How I Long to be with You Bryony Hill, 2014-11-20 In War Letters Home Bryony Hill the wife of football legend Jimmy Hill reveals the story of her family's experiences of the pain and separation caused by war and the humour, bravery and stiff upper lip with which it was borne. Alongside the letter are hundreds of photographs which help to tell the story. The Civil War Letters of Joseph and Mary Carter of Bear Lake PA 1861-1865 Don Rickerson, 2014-10-31 Joseph Carter of Bear Lake PA was 34 years old when he was drafted into the Union Army in 1863 serving until the end of the Civil War. He was married to Mary Ellen Howles in 1854. They had a successful 90 acre farm and five children in the Village of Bear Lake in northwestern Pennsylvania. Joseph was an older soldier by any measurement. He was not rich, famous, commissioned or privileged so his writing is that of a simple gentleman. He served as an infantryman with the 82nd Pennsylvania Volunteer Regiment throughout the war seeing many skirmishes and battles. We are fortunate to have the exchange of letters between Joseph and Mary. As paper was very scarce in army camps Joseph would write on the back of Mary's letters and send them back to her. Joseph was a foot soldier, thought out his enlistment. He endured the boredom of soldiering, periodic carnage of battle and incarceration in Libby Prison as a Prisoner of War. Mary and the children stayed at the farm and kept it running while awaiting his return. The letters they exchanged showed how they tried to keep each other's spirits up while they were apart. Mary kept Joseph apprised of the happening with the family, the farm and the village. Joseph in turn wrote Mary of his travels, battles and army camp life. Joseph nearly died during his imprisonment at Libby Prison in Richmond VA in January/February 1865. He was so emaciated after he was released from the Army hospital at Camp Parole on furlough home that no one recognized him. It was said that you could see candle light through his hands. He returned to the army in June 1865 and served till the 82nd was mustered out in July 1865. After the war he returned to his wife Mary and the farm at Bear Lake. They had seven more children. At age 46 in 1876 he applied for a veteran's pension due to health issues from Libby Prison. He died at age 50 on 7 July 1889. Prologue, 1992. The Cambridge Companion to Walt Whitman Ezra Greenspan, 1995-06-30 The essays collected here, written for this volume by an international team of distinguished Whitman scholars, examine a variety of issues in Whitman's life and art. Their varying approaches mirror the diversity of contemporary scholarship and the breadth of target that Whitman affords for such examination. The authors of these essays address a wide range of issues befitting a poet of his stature and ambiguity: Whitman and photography, Whitman and feminist scholarship, Whitman and modernism, Whitman and the poetics of address, Whitman and the poetics of present participles, Whitman and Borges, Whitman and Isadora Duncan, Whitman and the Civil War, Whitman and the politics of his era, and Whitman and the changing nature of his style in his later years. Addressed to an audience of students and general readers and written in a nontechnical prose designed to promote accessibility to the study of Whitman, this volume includes a chronology of Whitman's life and suggestions for further reading. War Letters Andrew Carroll, 2008-06-23 In 1998 Andrew Carroll founded the Legacy

Transatlantic Connections M. Wynn Thomas, 2009-11 In this series of textual readings and cultural comparisons M Wynn Thomas explores Whitman's amazing ability to appeal across distances and centuries The book's contrasting sections reflect the two locations studied the first shows Whitman in his time and place while the second repositions him within the cultures of England and Wales from the late 19th to the late 20th century In the opening chapter he is placed against the vivid outrageous background of the New York of his time the second finds evidence in his poetry of a critique of the new urban politics of the emerging city boss the third radically redefines Whitman's relationship to his famous contemporary Longfellow Other chapters deal with the Civil War poet exploring the ways in which his poetic responses were in part shaped by his relationship to his soldier brother George and his use of the meteorological discoveries of his day to fashion metaphors for imaging the different phases of the conflict The second section ponders the paradox that this Whitman who was so much the product of his specific time and limited local culture should come to be accepted as an international visionary The United Kingdom is taken as offering striking instances of this phenomenon and his transatlantic admirers are shown to have been engaged in an unconscious process of translating Whitman into the terms of their own culturally specific social political and sexual preoccupations Some of the connections explored are those between Whitman and Edward Carpenter the so called

English Whitman between Whitman and perhaps his greatest English critic D H Lawrence and between Whitman and the Welsh poets Ernest Rhys Amanwy David Rees Griffiths Niclas y Glais T E Nicholas Waldo Williams Glyn Jones Dylan Thomas and R S Thomas This bold and original study offering new points of entry into understanding Whitman as the product of his time and place as well as understanding the reception of Whitman in the U K as a process of cultural translation should fascinate scholars of Whitman and students of comparative literature
