Cultural Capital, Identity, and Social Mobility Mick Matthys,2012-12-12 This qualitative study explores the meaning of working class origin in the life and career of university graduates Social transition from a working class background to a middle class milieu results in loyalty conflicts and communication barriers The lack of social and cultural capital and the absent sense of an assertive self presentation are pivotal barriers to gaining management functions Positions in certain key sectors are not necessarily allocated according to professional capacity but to obscure social connections regulated by cultural codes and tests Matthys approaches social mobility as a trajectory of identity construction in which different classes are integrated and uses the notion of identity capital to interpret and discuss the meaning of the individual drive in social mobility Socioeconomic Outcomes of the Global Financial Crisis Ulrike Schuerkens,2012-07-26 This book originates from a comparative research project involving extensive collection and analysis of primary and secondary materials scholarly literature statistical data and interviews with key actors on socioeconomic outcomes of the global financial crisis in all major world regions during the last years Offering analytical and comparative insights at the global level as well as an assessment of the overall social globalization phenomenon this book will be useful for scholars students NGOs and policy makers

Migration in the 21st Century Pauline Gardiner Barber,Winnie Lem,2012 This edited collection focuses on global migration in its inter regional international and transnational variants and argues that contemporary migration scholarship is significantly advanced both within anthropology and beyond it when ethnography is theoretically engaged to grapple with the social consequences and asymmetries of twenty first century capitalism s global modalities Drawn from settings across the globe case studies explore the nuanced formations of class and power within particular migration flows while addressing the complex analytics of a contemporary critical political economy of migration Subjects include global migrants as capitalists entrepreneurs and cosmopolitans as well as workers and immigrants who are subject to varying degrees of precariousness under intensified competition for profits within contemporary global economies By re addressing the question of the relationship between changes in global capitalism and migration the book aims for a timely intervention into the debates on migration which have come to be one of the most contentious emotionally fraught issues in North America and Europe

Immigrant Adaptation in Multi-Ethnic Societies Eric Fong,Lan-Hung Nora Chiang,Nancy Denton,2013-03-05 As a result of international immigration ethnic diversity has increased rapidly in many countries not only in major cities but also in smaller cities This trend is not limited to the traditional immigrant receiving countries such as the United States and Canada but occurs also in many other countries where doors are gradually opening to immigration especially in Asia This combination of a growing immigrant population and ethnic diversity has fostered a more complex immigrant integration process This book addresses the subject at the city ecological level inter group level and individual level It contributes to the understanding of immigrant adaptation in a multi ethnic context brings Asian perspectives into the discussion of immigration and race and ethnic relations and will serve as a basis for future study of immigrant adaptation in a multi ethnic context

Postcolonialism, Indigeneity and Struggles for Food Sovereignty Marisa Wilson,2016-10-04 This book explores connections between activist debates about food sovereignty and academic debates about alternative food networks The ethnographic case studies demonstrate how divergent histories and geographies of people in place open up or close off possibilities for alternative sovereign food spaces illustrating the globally uneven and varied development of industrial capitalist food networks and of everyday forms of subversion and accommodation How for example do relations between alternative food networks and mainstream industrial capitalist food networks differ in places with contrasting histories of land appropriation trade governance and consumer identities to those in Europe and non indigenous spaces of New Zealand or the United States How do indigenous populations negotiate between maintaining a sense of moral connectedness to their agri and acqua cultural landscapes and subverting or indeed appropriating industrial capitalist approaches to food By delving into the histories geographies and everyday worlds of post colonial peoples the book shows how colonial power relations of the past and present create more opportunities for some alternative producer consumer and state market civil society relations than others
