June 2013 Maths Paper Memorandum:

Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize A beautifully accessible guide One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms Times UK If you were accused of a crime who would you rather decide your sentence a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers And would you agree to share your family's full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace

Exploring the Contexts for Early Learning Rory McDowall Clark, 2016-09-01 The concept of readiness for school is attractive to policy makers but many academics researchers and practitioners argue that an early start to formal learning may be misguided This book introduces readers to an increasing body of evidence which demonstrates that young children need opportunities to learn and develop in environments that support their emotional and cognitive needs offering opportunities to develop autonomy competence and self regulation skills With advice on implementing research findings in practice this book provides clear guidance on how to foster and develop these attributes scaffold steps into new areas of learning and support children in facing new challenges Chapters cover Policy and discourses Taking account of development Approaches to Early Years Learning The Diversity of Children's Early Experiences Transitions and starting school Where to in the Future Exploring the Contexts for Early Learning will be essential reading for students practitioners policy makers and all those interested in the school readiness agenda Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
