Wartime Journalism, 1939-1943 Paul De Man, 1988-01-01 In occupied Belgium during World War II, Paul de Man (1919-1983) wrote music, lecture, and exhibition reviews; a regular book column; interviews and articles on cultural politics for the Brussels daily newspaper Le Soir. From December 1940 until he resigned in November 1942, de Man contributed almost 200 articles to this and another newspaper both then controlled by Nazi sympathizers and vocal advocates of the new order. Later to become one of the most respected and influential literary theorists in America, de Man, then 21 and 22 years old, wrote primarily as the chief literary critic for Le Soir. His weekly column reviewed the latest novels and poetry from Belgium, France, Germany, and England. De Man commented extensively on major propaganda expositions and interviewed leading writers and cultural figures including Paul Valéry and the future Vichy Education minister Abel Bonnard. The political extremes of de Man's wartime writing are marked by two articles. His single anti-Semitic article, "Les Juifs dans la littérature actuelle," 4 March 1941, acquiesces in the deportation of Jews to a Jewish colony isolated from Europe. But de Man later argued in defense of a Resistance-linked journal, A propos de la revue Messages, 14 July 1942, against the totalitarian censors' unconsidered attacks. This volume reprints in facsimile all of de Man's articles in Le Soir as well as three articles he wrote prior to the occupation in 1940 as editor of the liberal Cahiers du Libre Examen. It also includes English translations of the ten articles written in Flemish for the Antwerp paper Het Vlaamsche Land in March/October 1942. The collection appears under the auspices of the Oxford Literary Review, England's leading theoretical journal for over a decade.

Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment Odile Cazenave, Patricia Célérier, 2011-02-02 By looking at engage literature from the recent past when the francophone African writer was implicitly seen as imparted with a mission to the present when such authors usually aspire to be acknowledged primarily for their work as writers. Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment addresses the current processes of canonization in contemporary francophone African literature. Odile Cazenave and Patricia Célérier argue that aesthetic as well as political issues are now at the forefront of debates about the African literary canon as writers and critics increasingly acknowledge the ideology of form. Working across genres but focusing on the novel, the authors take up the question of renewed forms of commitment in this literature. Their selected writers range from Mongo Beti, Ousmane Sembène and Aminata Sow Fall to Boubacar Boris Diop, Vronique Tadjo, Alain Mabanckou and Léonora Miano among others. Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library The question What is Qu b cois literature may seem innocent and answerable yet Rosemary Chapman s compelling study shows that to answer it is to chart the cultural history of French Canada to put francophone writing in Canada in postcolonial context and to ask whether literary history with its focus on the nation is in fact obsolete This remarkable book will be compulsory reading for scholars well versed in francophone postcolonial studies and will also act as an ideal introduction for Anglophone scholars of Canadian literature
