based rehabilitation and all related disciplines Singular Pasts Enzo Traverso, 2022-11-01 Today history is increasingly written in the first person. A growing number of historical works include an autobiographical dimension as if writing about the past required exploring the inner life of the author. Neither traditional history nor autobiography, this hybrid genre calls the norms of the historical profession into question. In search of new and creative paths, it transgresses a cardinal rule of the discipline: third person narration, long considered necessary to the objective analysis of the past. Singular Pasts offers a critical account of the emergence of authorial subjectivity in historical writing, scrutinizing both its achievements and its shortcomings. Enzo Traverso considers a group of contemporary historians including Ivan Jablonka, Sergio Luzzatto, and Mark Mazower who reveal their emotional ties to their subjects and give their writing a literary flavor. He identifies a parallel trend in literature in which authors such as W. G. Sebald, Patrick Modiano, Javier Cercas, and Daniel Mendelsohn write their works as investigations based on archival sources. Traverso argues that first person history mirrors contemporary ways of thinking: such writing is presentist and apolitical, perceiving and representing the past through an individual lens. Probing the limits of subjective historiography, he emphasizes that it is collective action that produces social change, we instead of I. In an epilogue, Traverso considers the first person writing of Saidiya Hartman as a counterexample. A wide-ranging and illuminating critique of a key trend in humanistic inquiry, Singular Pasts reconsiders the notion of historical truth in a neoliberal age. A Critical Discourse Study of the "Chinese Dream" Junchen Zhang, 2024-11-29 Zhang's book focuses on the analysis of the sociohistorical context, linguistic patterns of discursive construction, and media representations of the Chinese Dream in Mainland China, Hong Kong, and the United States. Analyzing data from the Chinese leader's speeches and articles from China Daily, the South China Morning Post, and the New York Times, the author provides insights into the understanding of contemporary Chinese society through a critical discourse analysis of the Chinese Dream and its mediatized construction. Focusing on the discursive construction, the book examines the Chinese leader Xi Jinping's narratives on the Chinese Dream from multidimensional perspectives such as thematic representations, discursive strategies, and narrative frames which emphasize the overall structure of the Chinese Dream as a political discourse. Methodologically, Zhang combines a discourse-historical approach, corpus linguistics, and framing analysis into a complementary framework which draws merits from the three approaches. This innovative research volume will be of interest to academics, researchers, and students in the fields of discourse analysis, political research, Chinese politics, and East Asian studies. The Location of Experience Adela

Pinch, 2024-10-15 We tend to feel that works of fiction give us special access to lived experience. But how do novels cultivate that feeling? Where exactly does experience reside? The Location of Experience argues that paradoxically, novels create experience for us not by bringing reality up close but by engineering environments in which we feel constrained from acting. By excavating the history of the rise of experience as an important category of Victorian intellectual life, this book reveals how experience was surprisingly tied to emotions of remorse and regret for some of the era's great women novelists. The

Bront s George Eliot Margaret Oliphant and Elizabeth Gaskell It shows how these writers passed ideas about experience and experiences themselves among each other Drawing on intellectual history psychology and moral philosophy The Location of Experience shows that through manipulating the psychological dimensions of fiction s formal features Victorian women novelists produced a philosophical account of experience that rivaled and complemented that of the male philosophers of the period
