

Activity 3: Digestive Lab

1. Review how food travels through the digestive system.

- Number the following statements, from 1 to 10, to accurately show the path food takes through the digestive system.

- ☐ Gastric juices, produced in the gastric gland and containing hydrochloric acid and enzymes, digest food into chyme.
- ☐ Solid waste is temporarily stored in the rectum before it is passed through the anal canal.
- ☐ The tongue rises to the roof of the mouth, directing the bolus out of the oral cavity.
- ☐ Food is consumed and taken into the oral cavity.
- ☐ Pancreatic juice enters the duodenum through the pancreatic ducts to aid digestion in the small intestine.
- ☐ The bolus passes from the oral cavity to the pharynx and into the esophagus.
- ☐ Chyme travels through the small intestine, where nutrients are absorbed into the bloodstream.
- ☐ Food is broken down into a small mass called the bolus by being chewed and mixed with saliva that is secreted by the salivary glands.
- ☐ Chyme travels through the large intestine, where water and specific vitamins are absorbed and the remaining waste materials pass to the rectum.
- ☐ Peristaltic waves move the bolus down the esophagus into the stomach.
