Conroy,2014-02-18 Food and Everyday Life provides a qualitative interpretive and interdisciplinary examination of food and food practices and their meanings in the modern world Edited by Thomas M Conroy the book offers a number of complementary approaches and topics around the parameters of the ordinary everyday perspective on food These studies highlight aspects of food production distribution and consumption as well as the discourse on food. Chapters discuss examples ranging from the cultural meanings of food as represented on television to the practices of food budgeting to the cultural politics of such practices as sustainable brewing and developing new forms of urban agriculture. A number of the studies focus on the relationships between food eating practices and the body. Each chapter examines a particular and in many instances highly unique food practice and each includes some key details of that practice. Taken together the chapters show us how the everyday practices of food are both familiar and yet at the same time ripe for further discovery.

The Political Relevance of Food Media and Journalism Elizabeth Fakazis, Elfriede Fürsich, 2023-01-31 Interrogating the intersections of food journalism and politics this book offers a critical examination of food media and journalism and its political potential against the backdrop of contemporary social challenges. Contributors analyze current and historic examples such as BlackLivesMatter COVID 19 climate change Brexit food sovereignty and identity politics highlighting how food media and journalism reach beyond the commercial imperatives of lifestyle journalism to negotiate nationalism globalization and social inequalities. The volume challenges the idea that food media journalism are trivial and apolitical by drawing attention to the complex ways that storytelling about food has engaged political discourses in the past and the innovative ways it is doing so today. Bringing together international scholars from a variety of disciplines the book will be of great interest to scholars and students of journalism communication media studies food studies sociology and anthropology.
