Biology Ian Honeysett,2007-09 Written by examiners and practicing teachers each book in this series contains activities and useful features intended to aid understanding Knowledge is tested throughout with progress checks at the end of every chapter and practice questions at the end of each section Making it tangible. Learning outcomes in science education Sascha Bernholt,Knut Neumann,Peter Nentwig,2012 One of the central features in current educational reforms is a focus on learning outcomes Many countries have established or revised standards to describe what teachers are supposed to teach and students are expected to learn More recently the emphasis has shifted to considerations of how standards can be operationalized in order to make the outcomes of educational efforts more tangible This book is the result of a symposium held in Kiel that was arranged by two science education groups one at the IPN Leibniz Institute for Science and Mathematics Education at the University of Kiel in Germany and the other at the University of York UK The seminar brought together renowned experts from 12 countries with different notions of the nature and quality of learning outcomes The aim was to clarify central conceptions and approaches for a better understanding among the international science education community The book is divided into five parts In Part A the organizers set the scene describing the rationale for arranging the symposium Part B provides a broad overview about different approaches challenges and pitfalls on the road to the clarification of meaningful and fruitful learning outcomes The set of papers in Part C provides deep insights into different although comparable approaches which aim to frame to assess and to promote learning and learning outcomes in science education Smaller projects are presented as well as broad coordinated national programs The papers in Part D outline the individual historical development from different national perspectives reflecting the deficits and problems that led to current reforms Finally a summary of the organizers analyses the conclusions from different vantage points Examining Writing Stuart D. Shaw,Cyril J. Weir,2007-07-05 Test developers need to provide a clear explication of the language ability constructs that underpin the tests they offer in the public domain such an explication is essential for supporting claims about the validity or usefulness of test scores This volume describes the theory and practice of Cambridge ESOL s approach to assessing second language writing ability A comprehensive test validation framework is used to examine the tasks in Cambridge ESOL writing tests from a number of different validity perspectives that reflect the socio cognitive nature of any assessment event The authors show how an understanding and analysis of the framework and its components can assist test developers to operationalise their tests more effectively especially in relation to the key criteria that differentiate one proficiency level from another The book provides an up to date review of relevant literature on assessing writing an accessible and systematic description of the different proficiency levels in second language writing a comprehensive and coherent basis for validating tests of writing This volume is a rich source of information on all aspects of examining writing ability As such it will be of considerable interest to examination boards who wish to validate their own writing tests in a systematic and coherent manner as well as to academic researchers and students in the field of language assessment more generally Book jacket
