Iahpc Manual Of Palliative Care:

Palliative Care in Clinical Practice Giovambattista Zeppetella, 2012-06-14 When a person suffers from advanced progressive illness palliative care treatments that improve the physical and psychological quality of life of patients and their families can be just as important as treatments that aim to slow or prevent disease progression Aimed at GPs and trainees Palliative Care in Clinical Practice offers an accessible and practical introduction to palliative medicine including a chapter devoted to each of the key areas of symptom management Clearly and concisely written and fully illustrated throughout it will be a useful resource for all healthcare professionals who wish to gain an understanding of this important aspect of medicine

Children's Palliative Care in Africa Justin Amery, 2009 Children's palliative care has developed rapidly as a discipline as health care professionals recognise that the principles of adult palliative care may not always be applicable to children at the end of life The unique needs of dying children are particularly evident across Africa where the scale of the problem is overwhelming and the figures so enormous that they are barely comprehensible over 400 000 children in Africa died from AIDS in 2003 and out of the 166 000 children a year diagnosed with cancer 84% of these are in the developing world Despite the enormous need provision of children's palliative care in Africa is almost non-existent with very few health workers trained and confident to provide care for dying children The challenges of providing palliative care in this setting are different to those in more developed countries contending with the shortage of physical and human resources in addition to the vast scope of the care needed Written by a group with wide experience of caring for dying children in Africa this book provides practical realistic guidance on improving access to and delivery of palliative care in this demanding setting It looks at the themes common to palliative care including communication assessment symptom management psychosocial issues ethical dilemmas end of life care and tips for the professional on compassion and conservation of energy but always retains the focus on the particular needs of the health care professional in Africa Whilst containing some theory the emphasis is on practical action throughout It will provide health care professionals working in Africa and other resource poor settings with the confidence knowledge and capacity to improve care for the terminally ill child in constrained and demanding environments

Palliative care for older people Lieve Van den Block, Gwenda Albers, Sandra Martins Pereira, Bregje Onwuteaka-Philipsen, Roeline Pasman, Luc Deliens, 2015-05-07 Current projections indicate that by 2050 the number of people aged over 80 years old will rise to 395 million and that by this date 25 30% of people over the age of 85 will show some degree of cognitive decline Palliative care for older people A public health perspective provides a comprehensive account of the current state of palliative care for older people worldwide and illustrates the range of concomitant issues that as the global population ages will ever more acutely shape the decisions of policy makers and care givers The book begins by outlining the range of policies towards palliative care for older people that are found worldwide It follows this by examining an array of socio cultural issues and palliative care initiatives from the care implications of health trajectories of older people to the spiritual requirements of palliative care patients and from the need to encourage compassion towards end of life care within communities to the development of care pathways for older people Palliative care for older people A public health perspective is a valuable resource for professionals and academics in a range of healthcare and public health fields to understand the current state of policy work from around the world The book also highlights the social cultural considerations that influence the difficult decisions that those involved in palliative care face not least patients themselves and offers examples of good practice and recommendations to inspire support and direct healthcare policy and decision making at organisational regional national and international levels Palliative Pharmacy Care Jennifer M Strickland,2009-01-22

Palliative care is primarily directed at providing relief to a terminally ill person through symptom and pain management The goal is not to cure but to provide comfort and maintain the highest possible quality of life for as long as life remains The focus is not on death but on compassionate specialized care for the living Palliative care functions best within an interdisciplinary team model that includes pharmacists playing a vital role in improving therapy compliance and outcomes Pharmacists are practicing palliative care in a number of settings that include hospice home care out patient treatment centers and hospitals Palliative care often follows as a parallel track to the therapy for the disease Palliative Pharmacy Care serves both as an aid to practitioners and a teaching text Each chapter contains at least one case study with questions key points and clinical pearls Inside you ll find A solid foundation for the history and principles of the area of practice as well as more advanced sections on specific treatment issues such as cancer and pediatrics Symptom management overviews for specific diseases and general health problems related to terminal illness such as anxiety fatigue and constipation Pain management guidelines on topics such pathophysiology and pharmacology nociceptive pain neuropathic pain equianalgesic dosing opioid rotation secretion management and death rattle A discussion on the future of pharmacists in palliative care setting up palliative care services and other general issues and concerns for pharmacists providing this service And much more End-of-Life

Nursing Care Annie Pettifer,Joanna de Souza,2012-12-18 Students and newly qualified staff make up much of the workforce delivering end of life care but because end of life care can be both technically challenging and emotionally demanding it is an aspect of nursing that can cause considerable anxiety This very accessible straightforward book helps to allay those concerns and enables pre registration students to prepare confidently for the challenges they will face when they are caring for dying patients and supporting their families Each chapter is based on a different and realistic scenario reflecting a range of circumstances to demonstrate the essential generic knowledge and skills they need to develop and draws out the important practical and theoretical issues students should consider and address if patients and their families are to receive the best possible care Written by two experienced palliative care lecturer practitioners and mapping closely to the NMC s 2010 domains the book is tailored to the needs of student nurses working with adult patients It explores the importance of their role in end of life care and how this interfaces with the roles of other multidisciplinary professionals involved in the care of their patients It will also be helpful to students of other health care professions and support newly qualified health care professionals working in adult health
