G. van Bergeijk, Steven Brakman, 2010-06-10 How do borders affect trade Are cultural and institutional differences important for trade Is environmental policy relevant to trade How does one s income or wage relate to the fact that trade partners are nearby or far away These are just some of the important questions that can be answered using the gravity model of international trade This model predicts and explains bilateral trade flows in terms of the economic size and distance between trading partners e g states regions countries trading blocs In recent years there has been a surge of interest in this model and it is now one of the most widely applied tools in applied international economics This book traces the history of the gravity model and takes stock of recent methodological and theoretical advances including new approximations for multilateral trade resistance insightful analyses of the measurement of economic distance and analyses of foreign direct investment Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1996 Influence of WTO and Global Dynamics on Trade

Flows Debashis Chakraborty, Oindrila Dey, 2024-10-10 p This book is a machine generated literature overview that explores the impact of the World Trade Organization WTO on international trade and its development It looks at international trade before and after 1995 when WTO was established It highlights the journey of the reciprocity based reforms under WTO that were expected to help the developing and less developed countries LDCs more vis vis their developed counterparts given the existence of systemic and structural bottlenecks in the latter territories The enabling steps were further expected to promote exports from developing countries and LDCs in line with their comparative advantage patterns enhance the wage level and in turn facilitate development of local population. The book showcases how during the first decade after WTO inception a considerable progress was made for facilitating exports from the lower and lower middle income countries through crucial provisions like less than full reciprocity, LTFTR, Generalized System of Preferences (GSP), support measures under Aid for Trade, zero duty preferences under Special and Differential Treatment (SDT) and so on. However, the pace of WTO reforms has slowed down in the aftermath of the sub prime crisis in 2008-09 and subsequent focus on formation of regional trade agreements (RTAs). In particular, in the aftermath of Covid-19, a trend towards de-globalization has been noticed with considerable ramifications for the development of lower income countries. In this background, there is a need to analyze how the deepening of trade flows and the subsequent de-globalization waves in the global canvas have traversed different paths in different continents and draw the appropriate lessons for the understanding of the trade development interlinkage therein. With insightful observations from the human editors, this machine-generated overview would be of interest to academicians, policy research community, advisory research community and students of international trade globally.
