Geographies of Meat Harvey Neo, Jody Emel, 2017-03-16 With the ever rising demand for meat around the world the production of meat has changed dramatically in the past few decades What has brought about the increasing popularity and attendant normalization of factory farms across many parts of the world What are some of the ways to resist such broad convergences in meat production and how successful are they This book locates the answers to these questions at the intersection between the culture science and political economy of meat production and consumption It details how and why techniques of production have spread across the world albeit in a spatially uneven way It argues that the modern meat production and consumption sphere is the outcome of a complex matrix of cultural politics economics and technological faith Drawing from examples across the world including America Europe and Asia the tensions and repercussions of meat production and consumption are also analyzed From a geographical perspective food animals have been given considerably less attention compared to wild animals or pets This book framed conceptually by critical animal studies governmentality and commodification is a theoretically driven and empirically rich study that advances the study of food animals in geography as well as in the wider social sciences

Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2018-11-15 Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37

explores the concept of distinction in geography Through the lives of six geographers working in Brazil North America Europe and R union it investigates what distinction consists of how we identify and celebrate it and how it relates to quotidian practices in the discipline The volume highlights the continuing importance of biography and the International Geographical Union in recording and assessing distinction It also considers the relevance of personal networks for the circulation and translation of distinguished geographical knowledge and how this knowledge can underpin applied projects and critical appraisal of geographical scholarship both at a national and sub national level Gendered notions of distinction are also addressed particularly through June Sheppard who found limited recognition for her work as a result of gendered expectations within the discipline and society at large By reflecting on how we locate distinguished geographers and tell their histories Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 makes an important contribution to fostering less canonical work in historical geography

New Perspectives on Health, Disability, Welfare and the Labour Market
Colin Lindsay, Bent Greve, Ignazio Cabras, Nick Ellison, Stephen Kellett, 2015-08-18 Bringing together researchers from the fields of social policy economics sociology and clinical psychology this book offers new evidence on the inter related problems faced by disability claimants and identifies important lessons for policy Explores how reducing the level of UK benefit claiming among those with health limitations has been a priority for successive governments Argues that current policy fails to reflect the evidence that people on long term disability benefits face a complex combination of barriers to work and social inclusion Demonstrates that there is a need for continuing inter disciplinary research on the nature of the disability benefits problem and the efficacy of current policy solutions and public services

A University Education David Willetts, 2017-11-17 Universities have a crucial role in the modern world In England entrance to universities is by nation wide competition which means English universities have an exceptional influence on schools a striking theme of the book This important book first investigates the university as an institution and then tracks the individual on their journey to and through university In A University Education David Willetts presents a compelling case for the ongoing importance of the university both as one of the great institutions of modern society and as a transformational experience for the individual The book also makes illuminating comparisons with higher education in other countries especially the US and Germany Drawing on his experience as UK Minister for Universities and Science from 2010 to 2014 the author offers a powerful account of the value of higher education and the case for more expansion He covers controversial issues in which he was involved from access for disadvantaged students to the introduction of 9 000 fees The final section addresses some of the big questions for the future such as the the relationship between universities and business especially in promoting innovation He argues that the two great contemporary trends of globalisation and technological innovation will both change the university significantly This is an authoritative account of English universities setting them for the first time in their new legal and regulatory framework
