The Proustian Quest William Carter,Jeffrey Lange,1994-02 An ambitious study the fruit of sustained work over many years Professor Carter s book deploys a stunning knowledge of Proust and places Carter among the first line of Proust scholars in the country Roger Shattuck Boston University The Proustian Quest is the first full length study that explores the influence of social change on Proust s vision In Remembrance of Things Past Proust describes how the machines of transportation and communication transformed fashion social mores time space perception and the understanding of the laws of nature Concentrating on the motif of speed Carter establishes the centrality of the modern world to the novel s main themes and produces a far reaching synthesis that demonstrates the work s profound structural unity

Incredible Modernism John Attridge,2016-05-23 With the twentieth century came a new awareness of just how much an individual was obliged to accept on trust and this heightened awareness of social trust in turn prompted new kinds of anxiety about fraudulence and deception Beginning with the premise that the traditional liberal concept of trust as a bond of society entered a period of crisis around the turn of the twentieth century this collection examines the profound influence of this shift on a wide range of modernist writers including James Joyce Marcel Proust Gertrude Stein Ezra Pound Wyndham Lewis H D Ford Madox Ford Samuel Beckett Ralph Ellison and Wallace Stevens In examining the importance of trust and fraudulence during the period the contributors take up a diverse set of topics related to reception the institutions of modernism the history of authorship the nature of representation authenticity genre social order and politics Taken as a whole Incredible Modernism provides concrete historical coordinates for the study of twentieth century trust while also arguing that a problem of trust is central to the institutions and formal innovations of modernism itself

Proust Writing Photography Aine Larkin,2017-07-05 The importance of vision and visual arts such as painting theatre and sculpture in Marcel Proust s A la recherche du temps perdu has long been affirmed another significant system of visual representation in the novel is photography Proust appropriated photography as a practice with its own distinctive characteristics which could inform his writing about the processes of perception and memory Through close textual analysis of scenes where photography is experienced or observed as a practice and scenes where photography is written into the body of the text Aine Larkin offers an invigorating new study that sheds genuinely new light on the presence of photographic motifs in Proust s novel and the subtlety of Proust's engagement with this modern imaging system in his work The Economy in its house. 2022 edition Marcel Aucoin, 2023-06-26T00:00:00+02:00 The title The Economy in its House echoes Xenophon's book oconomicus which focuses on the relationship of a house with its environment rather than on trade. It also makes reference to a question from Socrates: What is a house? It is by striving to explore these relationships and questions reflecting the conditions of our time that we have concluded that the economy is in its house and that changes everything. Indeed, this leads us to establish a foundation new but grafted onto ancient roots for economics. By integrating into our theory the unpredictable environment we provide economists with a framework to address the multiple issues that arise not only in our common home, the Earth, but also to all other houses. Our model is based on the hypothesis of the random nature of the economy which brings us closer to modern physics and its methods. On these pillars, our model abstracts economic agents and focuses attention on the interconnected constituents of the house, both their mutual statistical relationships and those they have with the environment. The covariance matrix that retraces such relationships indicates how the environment disrupts on average each constituent during a period. This gives the possibility to explore the destinies of the houses in the short, middle, or long run through crises and changing perspectives of ruin. It makes it possible to identify three essential variables: the growth factor, the growth energy, and finally the prices root, which is also the weight of the unit of account and an anti-ruin coefficient. One of the characteristics of modern houses is that among their constituents, positive covariances outweigh negative covariances. Hence their growth, we explore its links with the reduction of inequalities and its pathologies: pollution and depletion of resources. We show how we can fight against crises and inequalities through greater solidarity. We show that one can model any house by use of a miniature house, its soul with two components: the hearth and the roof, and three guiding parameters: exposure to hazards, security, and performance. With these guides, one expresses all the macroeconomic variables relative to a house. These are preserved by passing from a house whatever its importance to its soul. The wealth of the results obtained shows that the path open must allow economists to go farther and safer in their work while also enabling a broader public to better understand what the economy is. A tort et à travers Fabien Rouillard, 2017-01-20 Tu te souviens. On avait dit qu'il serait facile d'avoir ceux que nous avons aimés. On avait oublié qu'il fallait aussi aimer ses ennemis. Ne restait plus qu'à aimer tort et travers. The Unconscious in Philosophy, and French and European Literature Fernand Vial, 2009 This book traces the idea of the unconscious as it emerges in French and European literature. It discusses the functioning of the normal unconscious mind and provides examples of the abnormal unconscious in poems and literature. Psychiatric cases as they are understood today are illustrated as mirrored in literature describing the functioning of the disturbed mind.
