humanities especially the study of literature offer economists ways to make their models more realistic their predictions more accurate and their policies more effective and just Arguing that Adam Smith s heirs include Austen Chekhov and Tolstoy as much as Keynes and Friedman Gary Saul Morson and Morton Schapiro trace the connection between Adam Smith s great classic The Wealth of Nations and his less celebrated book on ethics The Theory of Moral Sentiments The authors contend that a few decades later Jane Austen invented her groundbreaking method of novelistic narration in order to give life to the empathy that Smith believed essential to humanity More than anyone the great writers can offer economists something they need a richer appreciation of behavior ethics culture and narrative Original provocative and inspiring Cents and Sensibility demonstrates the benefits of a dialogue between economics and the humanities and also shows how looking at real world problems can revitalize the study of literature itself Featuring a new preface this book brings economics back to its place in the human conversation

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull,Jonathan D. Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South

Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI
