and the challenges to it With a post 1800 focus and extensive background coverage tracing the subject to the early 1700s the book charts the rise and eclipse of European empires Robert Aldrich and Andreas Stucki integrate innovative approaches and findings from the new imperial history and look at both the colonial era and the legacies it left behind for countries around the world after they gained independence Dividing the text into three complementary sections Aldrich and Stucki offer an original approach to the subject that allows you to explore Different eras of colonisation and decolonisation from early modern European colonialism to the present day Overarching themes in colonial history like land and sea the body and representations of colonialism A global range of snapshot colonial case studies such as Peru 1780 India 1876 The South Pacific 1903 the Dutch East Indies 1938 and the Portuguese empire in Africa 1971 This is the essential text for anyone seeking to understand the nature and complexities of modern European imperialism and its aftermath The Oxford Handbook of Commodity History Jonathan Curry-Machado, Jean Stubbs, William Gervase Clarence-Smith, Jelmer Vos, 2024 The Oxford Handbook of Commodity History features contributions from scholars involved in the field s development across a range of countries and linguistic regions Each of the handbook s thirty one chapters focuses on an important theme within commodity history essential approaches global histories modes of production people and land environmental impact consumption and new methodologies Ottoman Egypt and the Emergence of the Modern World Nelly Hanna, 2014-09-01 Aiming to place Egypt clearly in the context of some of the major worldwide transformations of the three centuries from 1500 to 1800 Nelly Hanna questions the mainstream view that has identified the main sources of modern world history as the Reformation the expansion of Europe into America and Asia the formation of trading companies and scientific discoveries Recent scholarship has challenged this approach on account of its Eurocentric bias on both the theoretical and empirical levels Studies on India and southeast Asia for example reject the models of these regions as places without history as stagnant and in decline and as awakening only with the emergence of colonialism when they became the recipients of European culture and technology So far Egypt and the rest of the Ottoman world have been left out of these approaches Nelly Hanna fills this gap by showing that there were worldwide trends that touched Egypt India southeast Asia and Europe In all these areas for example there were linguistic shifts that brought the written language closer to the spoken word She also demonstrates that technology and know how far from being centered only in Europe flowed in different directions in the eighteenth century French entrepreneurs were trying to imitate the techniques of bleaching and dyeing of cloth that they found in Egypt and other Ottoman localities Based on a series of lectures given at the Middle East Center at Harvard this groundbreaking book will be of interest to all those looking for a different perspective on the history of south north relations

Cultural Change in Modern World History Peter N. Stearns, 2018-12-13 In this innovative textbook leading world historian Peter Stearns analyses key examples of culture change from around the world highlighting what culture change involves and how it can be explained and assessed both historically and in the contemporary world Culture change is one of the most interesting and significant features of human society but until now there has been no book for the classroom which looks explicitly at this phenomenon Cultural Change in Modern World History covers different kinds and levels of culture change since 1500 from colonial culture contact in British India to modernization in Meiji Japan and changing attitudes towards gay marriage in the past decade considering how we should define culture change how to deal with causation and how to evaluate continuities and consequences Stearns addresses fundamental questions why do groups of people change their beliefs and values and what happens when they do Conversely why do some groups resist culture change and how do some manage to combine novel and more traditional cultural components Figuring out how better to understand why groups or societies change their minds or refuse to do so provides a crucial perspective on human behaviors and values As the first book to explore this important question Cultural Change in Modern World History is a ground breaking text for students of world history cultural history and anthropology

Labour-Intensive Industrialization in Global History Gareth Austin, Kaoru Sugihara, 2013-09-13 The prevailing view of industrialization has focussed on technology capital entrepreneurship and the institutions that enabled them to be deployed Labour was often equated with other factors of production and assigned a relatively passive role Yet it was labour absorption and the improvement of the quality of labour over the course of several centuries that underscored the timing pace and quality of global industrialization While science and technology developed in the West and whereas the use of fossil fuels especially coal and oil were vital to this process the more recent history has been underpinned by the development of comparatively resource and energy saving technology without which the diffusion of industrialization would not have been possible. The labour intensive resource saving path which emerged in East Asia under the influence of Western technology and institutions and is diffusing across the world suggests the most realistic route humans could take for a further diffusion of industrialization which might respond to the rising expectations of living standards without catastrophic environmental degradation. Reorienting the 19th Century Andre Gunder Frank, Robert A. Denemark, 2015-10-23 Andre Gunder Frank was a path breaking scholar in several disciplines over an illustrious and contentious 50 year career. First amongst his many important works is the book ReORIENT Global Economy in the Asian Age which sought to correct a Euro centric world view of the development of the global political economy. Frank passed away in April 2005 while working on this new book a sequel to ReORIENT. In this book Frank shows many of the myths of European industrialisation hegemony and capitalism which have hidden the fact that Asia remained a serious power not just into the 18th century as Frank himself argued in 1998 but well into the 19th century as well. When Frank passed away his colleagues rallied to finish this book and it is presented here as his final major statement. The Relentless Revolution: A History of Capitalism Joyce Appleby, 2011-03-07 Splendid the global history of capitalism in all its creative and destructive glory. New York Times Book Review. With its deep roots and global scope the capitalist system seems universal and timeless. The framework for our lives it is a source of constant change sometimes measured and predictable sometimes drastic out of control. Yet what is now ubiquitous was not always so. Capitalism was an unlikely development when it emerged from isolated changes in farming trade and manufacturing in early modern England. Astute observers began to notice these changes and register their effects. Those in power began to harness these new practices to the state enhancing both. A system generating wealth power and new ideas arose to reshape societies in a constant surge of change. Approaching capitalism as a culture as a historical development that was by no means natural or inevitable. Joyce Appleby gives us a fascinating introduction to this most potent creation of mankind from its origins to its present global reach.

Global Entanglements of a Man Who Never Traveled Dominic Sachsenmaier, 2018-05-29 Born into a low level literati family in the port city of Ningbo the seventeenth century Chinese Christian convert Zhu Zongyuan likely never left his home province. Yet Zhu nonetheless led a remarkably globally connected life. His relations with the outside world ranging from scholarly activities to involvement with globalizing Catholicism put him in contact with a complex and contradictory set of foreign and domestic forces. In Global Entanglements of a Man Who Never Traveled Dominic Sachsenmaier explores the mid seventeenth century world and the worldwide flows of ideas through the lens of Zhu's life combining the local regional and global. Taking particular aspects of Zhu's multiple belongings as a starting point Sachsenmaier analyzes the contexts that framed his worlds as he balanced a local life and his border crossing faith. At the local level the book pays attention to the intellectual political and social environments of late Ming and early Qing society including Confucian learning and the Manchu conquest questioning the role of ethnic and religious identities. At the global level it considers how individuals like

Zhu were situated within the history of organizations and power structures such as the Catholic Church and early modern empires amid larger transformations and encounters A strikingly original work this book is a major contribution to East Asian transnational and global history with important implications for historical approaches and methodologies

The Struggle against Imperialism Edward H. Judge, John W. Langdon, 2018-06-15 This concise and engaging book argues that the Cold War and anti colonial movements should properly be studied and taught together not as distinct developments but rather as interwoven aspects of a complex global transformation The authors provide a cogent and concise description of the post World War II era and reveal connective dimensions of that era that remain hidden in books that focus primarily on either the Cold War or the struggles against imperial rule It not only deals with anti colonialism and Cold War together but also portrays the Cold War as a contest between anti imperialist empires capped by the collapse of one of them the multicultural trans regional Soviet realm in a work that is engaging and accessible to both students and general readers

The Contamination of the Earth Francois Jarrige, Thomas Le Roux, 2021-11-16 The trajectories of pollution in global capitalism from the toxic waste of early tanneries to the poisonous effects of pesticides in the twentieth century Through the centuries the march of economic progress has been accompanied by the spread of industrial pollution As our capacities for production and our aptitude for consumption have increased so have their byproducts chemical contamination from fertilizers and pesticides diesel emissions oil spills a vast plastic continent found floating in the ocean The Contamination of the Earth offers a social and political history of industrial pollution mapping its trajectories over three centuries from the toxic wastes of early tanneries to the fossil fuel energy regime of the twentieth century

Histories of Technology, the Environment and Modern Britain Jon Agar, Jacob Ward, 2018-04-09 Histories of Technology the Environment and Modern Britain brings together historians with a wide range of interests to take a uniquely wide lens view of how technology and the environment have been intimately and irreversibly entangled in Britain over the last 300 years It combines for the first time two perspectives with much to say about Britain since the industrial revolution the history of technology and environmental history Technologies are modified environments just as nature is to varying extents engineered Furthermore technologies and our living and non living environment are both predominant material forms of organisation and self organisation that surround and make us Both have changed over time in intersecting ways Technologies discussed in the collection include bulldozers submarine cables automobiles flood barriers medical devices museum displays and biotechnologies Environments investigated include bogs cities farms places of natural beauty and pollution land and sea The book explores this diversity but also offers an integrated framework for understanding these intersections

Spickard, Kevin M. Cragg, 2001-02 Surveys the progression of the Christian experience within historical social economic and cultural contexts Empire in Asia: A New Global History Brian P.
