Life Without Money Anitra Nelson, Frans Timmerman, 2011-11-07 The money based global economy is failing The credit crunch undermined capitalism's ability to ensure rising incomes and prosperity while market led attempts to combat climate change are fought tooth and nail by business as environmental crises continue We urgently need to combat those who say there is no alternative to the current system but what would an alternative look like The contributors to Life Without Money argue that it is time radical non market models were taken seriously The book brings together diverse voices presenting strong arguments against our money based system's ability to improve lives and prevent environmental disaster Crucially it provides a direct strategy for undercutting capitalism by refusing to deal in money and offers money free models of governance and collective sufficiency Life Without Money is written by high profile activist scholars including Harry Cleaver Ariel Salleh and John O'Neill making it an excellent text for political economy and environmental courses as well as an inspiring manifesto for those who want to take action

Design Activism Alastair Fuad-Luke, 2013-06-17 Design academics and practitioners are facing a multiplicity of challenges in a dynamic complex world moving faster than the current design paradigm which is largely tied to the values and imperatives of commercial enterprise Current education and practice need to evolve to ensure that the discipline of design meets sustainability drivers and equips students teachers and professionals for the near future New approaches methods and tools are urgently required as sustainability expands the context for design and what it means to be a designer Design activists who comprise a diverse range of designers teachers and other actors are setting new ambitions for design They seek to fundamentally challenge how where and when design can catalyse positive impacts to address sustainability They are also challenging who can utilise the power of the design process To date examination of contemporary and emergent design activism is poorly represented in the literature This book will provide a rigorous exploration of design activism that will re vitalise the design debate and provide a solid platform for students teachers design professionals and other disciplines interested in transformative design activism Design Activism provides a comprehensive study of contemporary and emergent design activism This activism has a dual aim to make positive impacts towards more sustainable ways of living and working and to challenge and reinvigorate design praxis It will collate synthesise and analyse design activist approaches processes methods tools and inspirational examples outcomes from disparate sources and in doing so will create a specific canon of work to illuminate contemporary design discourse Design Activism reveals the power of design for positive social and environmental change design with a central activist role in the sustainability challenge Inspired by past design activists and set against the context of global local tensions expressions of design activism are mapped The nature of contemporary design activism is explored from individual collective action to the infrastructure that supports it generating powerful participatory design approaches a diverse toolbox and inspirational outcomes This is design as a political and social act design to enable adaptive societal capacity for co futuring

Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert, Tim Waterman, 2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies Landscape describes places as relationships and processes Landscapes create people s identities and guide their actions and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people Food as currency medium and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy anthropology archaeology conservation countryside management cultural studies ecology ethics geography heritage studies landscape architecture landscape management and planning literature urban design and architecture Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters overlap within the book Perma/Culture: Molly Wallace, David Carruthers, 2018-02-07 In the face of what seems like a concerted effort to destroy the only planet that can sustain us critique is an important tool It is in this vein that most scholars have approached environmental crisis While there are numerous texts that chronicle contemporary issues in environmental ills there are relatively few that explore the possibilities and practices which work to avoid collapse and build alternatives The keyword of this book's full title Perma Culture alludes to and plays on permaculture an international movement that can provide a framework for navigating the multiple other worlds within a broader environmental ethic This edited collection brings together essays from an international team of scholars activists and artists in order to provide a critical introduction to the ethico political and cultural elements around the concept of Perma Culture These multidisciplinary essays include a varied landscape of sites and practices from readings from ecotopian literature to an analysis of the intersection of agriculture and art from an account of the rewards and difficulties of building community in Transition Towns to a description of the ad hoc infrastructure of a fracking protest camp Offering a number of constructive models in response to current global environmental challenges this book makes a significant contribution to current eco literature and will be of great interest to students and researchers in Environmental Humanities Environmental Studies Sociology and Communication Studies
