Challenging Perceptions of Africa in Schools Barbara O'Toole, Ebun Joseph, David Nyaluke, 2019-12-23 This book challenges educational discourse in relation to teaching about Africa at all levels of the education system in the Global North with a specific case study focusing on the Republic of Ireland The book provides an interrogation of the proliferation of negative imagery of and messages about African people and African countries and the impact of this on the attitudes and perceptions of children and young people It explores how predominantly negative stereotyping can be challenged in classrooms through an educational approach grounded in principles of solidarity interdependence and social justice The book focuses on the premise that existing educational narratives about the African continent and African people are rooted in a preponderance of racialised perceptions an impoverished continent dependent on the benevolence of the North The cycle of negativity engendered as a result of such portrayals cannot be broken until educators engage with these matters and bring critical and inquiry based pedagogies into classrooms Insights into three key pedagogical areas are provided active unlearning translating critical thinking into meaningful action and developing a race consciousness This book will appeal to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education and teacher education It will be of interest to those involved in youth work as well as intercultural and global citizenship youth trainers The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Support Not Surveillance: How to solve the teacher retention crisis Mary Bousted, 2022-04-08 Why are so many teachers leaving the profession increasingly early in their careers What harm is being done to pupils' educational prospects by persistent teacher shortages Why are teachers held uniquely responsible for the effects of poverty on children's progress and attainment What are the unintended consequences of rushed government education policy making And what can be done about all of the above Supported by the latest international and national evidence Support Not Surveillance seeks to address these important questions Laying bare how the inadequacy of Westminster policies is compounded by an unfair Ofsted inspection regime Dr Mary Bousted draws on her years of expertise and access to decision makers to expose the gap between ministerial rhetoric and the daily reality encountered by teachers in their classrooms across England Ending on a set of proposals to move beyond the seemingly perennial crisis in teacher recruitment and retention Support Not Surveillance is an unflinching call to end the failed experiment of government interventionism in classrooms
