House Full Lakshmi Srinivas, 2016-08-31 Film studies have traditionally focused on texts meanings techniques and appreciation criticism Now we have in House Full an ethnography of movie going and movie goers in India of all places Bangalore where the focus has been shifted away from the movie as product to the study of patterns of social behavior in production marketing and consumption of film India is a place of surprises and that goes for movie theatres and film patronage House Full presents a raucous multi ethnic multi class tableau You would guess the audience is Srinivas s focus and that is accurate because in India they have a role in choosing buying tickets for and sitting through and reacting to movies participating loudly and interactively that differs from what North Americans are used to Srinivas s interviews with audience members across ethnic and class lines distributors movie theater managers and also the actors directors writers and other production crew make for fascinating comparisons to what we in the west are used to The interactional character of her study places it firmly in the tradition of the Chicago School of sociology Lest we forget meanwhile India is the largest producer of feature films worldwide with the largest market in terms of films produced and audiences reached selling 4 billion tickets annually Focus On: 100 Most Popular Indian Drama Films Wikipedia contributors, Goa, Kovalam
