Politics of African Anticolonial Archive Shiera S. el-Malik, Isaac A. Kamola, 2017-03-03 African political writing of the mid 20th century seeks to critically engage with questions of identity history and the state for the purpose of national and human liberation This volume collects an array of essays that reflect on anticolonialism in Africa broadly defined Each contribution connects the historical period with the anticolonial present through a critical examination of what constitutes the anticolonial archive The volume considers archive in a Derridean sense as always in the process of being constructed such that the assessment of the African anticolonial archive is one that involves a contemporary process of curating The essays in this volume as well as the volume itself enact different ways of curating material from this period The project reflects an approach to documents arguments and materials that can be considered international relations and world politics but in ways that intentionally leaves them unhinged from these disciplinary meanings While we examine many of the same questions that have been asked within area studies African studies and International Relations we do so through an alternative archive In doing so we challenge the assumption that Africa is solely the domain of policy makers and area studies and African peoples as the objects of data
