

To what extent was Stalin's success in the power struggle after Lenin's death due to Trotsky's errors of judgement? (25 marks)

It can be appreciated that Trotsky considerably undermined Stalin's capability to be a strong leader in the Bolshevik Party. Despite early warning signs, for example Stalin being elected to the Central Committee Party in 1917 and becoming a member of the Politburo in 1918, Trotsky viewed Stalin as a "background character" with no ambitions. But his position in the party inevitably meant that he was placed close to Lenin and was seen as a trustworthy adviser, therefore making him a major contender as Lenin's successor. This alone though was not the sole reason for Stalin's success in the power struggle, other factors such as his power base, policies and mistakes of other party members significantly contributed. So, it can be argued that Stalin would have rose to success regardless of Trotsky's misjudgement, since his integrity and tactics dominated over external influences from other party members.

Trotsky was a prominent figure in the Bolshevik party, playing a crucial role in the success of the October Revolution and the consolidation of Bolshevik power, which earned him widespread respect within the party and positioned him as one of the foremost contenders for Lenin's replacement. Yet this respect also fuelled Trotsky's self-admiration and arrogance, he was often dismissive of other party members ideas and was looked down on those he felt were less wise than him- meaning that he failed build strong alliances within the party to counter Stalin's growing influence, which left him growing authority and becoming closer to Lenin.

He was also distrusted by many colleagues due to his Jewish background and there was a fear that he would use the Red Army to seize power. Aswell as this, Trotsky had a reputation of being indecisive and failing to act swiftly- for example he was not in Moscow for Lenin's funeral which provoked accusations that he was lazy and didn't care to attend. Stalin gave the funeral oration which encouraged the idea that he had adequate leadership skills. Trotsky was delayed in asserting his claim to power, which allowed Stalin to consolidate his position as General Secretary and gain control over the party arrangement. Aswell as this, Trotsky kept silent as Kamenev and Zinoviev decided that Lenin's secret testament (first written December 1922) should not be made public knowledge. This would have been damning for Stalin's reputation (Lenin suggested he be removed from post as General Secretary) and beneficial for Trotsky's reputation as it may have mentioned that he was most capable member of his replacements. It was clear that Trotsky's mistakes left him at a disadvantage, but it is more credible to argue that Stalin's success in the power struggle was due to his own political skill. Indeed, his colleagues
