Sarah and her Sisters Robert D. Stoddard, Jr.,2020-06-18 When newly married Sarah Smith arrived in Beirut in 1834 she was appalled by the ignorance and ill treatment of Arab women and girls Well educated for her times she was not content just to keep house for her missionary husband Rather having taught Mohegan Indians in Connecticut she in her two remaining years opened a small school for girls that began the transformation of education for Arab females Sarah's pioneering venture inspired a series of Protestant sisters married and single to follow in her wake as missionary teachers Leaving loved ones and the comforts of home behind they crossed two perilous seas learned Arabic and against great odds continued her work in elementary and then secondary and higher education Sarah's posthumous memoir was widely read But the stories of her sisters were little known until now Here they are linked in an extraordinary chain of educational achievements despite religious strife civil war epidemics famine isolation and finally a world war pandemic and global depression Regrettably many sisters like Sarah paid the ultimate price and were buried abroad As long as any girls anywhere are denied an education these stories can inspire teachers of girls and advocates for female education worldwide to persevere And hopefully coeds at Lebanese American University will be inspired and motivated to excel knowing that your university goes back to Mrs Smith's Beirut Female School and that you are the direct beneficiaries of Sarah and her sisters
