Hill, 2022-01-11 The First Chapters

uncovers the origins of the first paragraph or chapter divisions in copies of the Christian Scriptures Its focal point is the magnificent fourth century Codex Vaticanus Vat gr 1209 B 03 perhaps the single most significant ancient manuscript of the Bible and the oldest material witness to what may be the earliest set of numbered chapter divisions of the Bible The First Chapters tells the history of textual division starting from when copies of Greek literary works used virtually no spaces marks or other graphic techniques to assist the reader It explores the origins of other numbering systems like the better known Eusebian Canons but its theme is the first set of numbered chapters in Codex Vaticanus what nineteenth century textual critic Samuel P Tregelles labelled the Capitulatio Vaticana It demonstrates that these numbers were not as most have claimed late additions to the codex but belonged integrally to its original production The First Chapters then breaks new ground by showing that the Capitulatio Vaticana has real precursors in some much earlier manuscripts It thus casts light on a long continuous tradition of scribally placed visual guides to the reading and interpreting of Scriptural books Finally The First Chapters exposes abundant new evidence that this early system for marking the sense divisions of Scripture has played a much greater role in the history of exegesis than has previously been imaginable      Introduction to Intersectional

Qualitative Research Jennifer Esposito, Venus Evans-Winters, 2021-04-21 Recipient of a 2022 Most Promising New Textbook

Award from the Textbook Academic Authors Association TAA Introduction to Intersectional Qualitative Research by Jennifer Esposito and Venus Evans Winters introduces students and new researchers to the basic aspects of qualitative research including research design data collection and analysis in a way that allows intersectional concerns to be infused throughout the research process Esposito and Evans Winters infuse their combined forty years of experience conducting and teaching intersectional qualitative research in this landmark book the first of its kind to address intersectionality and qualitative research jointly for audiences new to both The book's premise is that race and gender matter and that racism and sexism are institutionalized in all aspects of life including research Each chapter opens with a vignette about a struggling researcher emphasizing that reflecting on your mistakes is an important part of learning Discussion questions at the end of each chapter help instructors generate dialogue in class or in groups Introduction to Intersectional Qualitative Research makes those identities and structures central to the task of qualitative study

Citizenship Education in Turkey Abdulkemir Sen, Hugh Starkey, 2019-12-16 This book investigates the evolution of citizenship education curriculum in parallel with the ideological transition of the country in a crucial period in which political power switched from secular militant to Islamic nationalism It sheds light on the ways in which a combination of internal and external influences shaped the curriculum which include the power struggle between the two forms of nationalism and the role of the United Nations the European Union and Council of Europe In most countries the national curriculum is modified when there is a change of government In Turkey the alignment of the national curriculum to the dominant ideology in power is to be expected Therefore the investigation offers more than a descriptive account of the transformation of citizenship education curriculum Against the backdrop of the ideological transformation of the national education from 1995 to 2012 the book presents a nuanced and critical account of curriculum change in citizenship education
