excerpts of published studies to augment the book's narrative development of topics by providing pictorial displays and summaries of the material. Literature-based and hypothetical research examples, illustrations from several manual therapy professions employing therapeutic massage, make the material pertinent to real-life settings. An introductory section at the beginning of each chapter reviews the material covered in the previous chapter and how it relates to the new material. Chapter coverage spans the quantitative, qualitative, and integrative research categories and affiliated research strategies and methods are considered in detail. Review summary tables give an overview of the narrative development of topics. Boxes provide the essential features of a given topic. Relies on multiple examples of possible research scenarios and illustrative excerpts from the published research literature. Content is cross-referenced for use with the Massage Therapy Foundation's Massage Therapy Research Curriculum Kit to provide both instructors and students in the 6-15 and 24-hour options levels an extensively developed resource in one place. Each chapter includes recommended web sites and software application packages for further information.

Teaching Information Literacy and Writing Studies Grace Veach, 2019-01-15 This volume edited by Grace Veach explores leading approaches to teaching information literacy and writing studies in upper-level and graduate courses. Contributors describe cross-disciplinary and collaborative efforts underway across higher education during a time when fact or truth is less important than fitting a predetermined message. Topics include working with varied student populations, teaching information literacy and writing in upper-level general education and disciplinary courses, specialized approaches for graduate courses, and preparing graduate assistants to teach information literacy.

Bibliographic Research in Composition Studies Vicki Byard, 2009-10-02 Bibliographic Research in Composition Studies is a student-friendly guide to how knowledge is constructed and disseminated in composition studies as well as a thorough handbook on how to conduct bibliographic research in the discipline. Student readers are taught Stephen North's taxonomy of scholarship: empirical research and practice so that they can better contextualize the sources they read and they learn the unique ways that some genres of publication function in composition studies. The book also leads students through the entire process of completing a bibliographic assignment.

Ethnography for Designers Galen Cranz, 2016-02-26 Ethnography for Designers teaches architects and designers how to listen actively to the knowledge people have about their own culture. This approach gives structure to values and qualities. It does this by noting the terms and underlying structure of thought people use to describe aspects of their culture. By responding to underlying cognitive patterns, the architect can both respond to the user and interpret creatively. Thus, ethno-semantic methods can help designers to enhance their professional responsibility to users and at the same time to feel fulfilled creatively. This book is a practical guide for those teaching social factors and social research methods to designers and for those using these methods in practice.

Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks, Second Edition Wendy Laura Belcher, 2019-06-07 Wow! No one ever told me this! Wendy Laura Belcher has heard this countless times throughout her years of teaching and advising academics on how to write journal articles. Scholars know they must publish but few have been told how to do so So Belcher made it her mission to demystify the writing process The result was Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks which takes this overwhelming task and breaks it into small manageable steps For the past decade this guide has been the go to source for those creating articles for peer reviewed journals It has enabled thousands to overcome their anxieties and produce the publications that are essential to succeeding in their fields With this new edition Belcher expands her advice to reach beginning scholars in even more disciplines She builds on feedback from professors and graduate students who have successfully used the workbook to complete their articles A new chapter addresses scholars who are writing from scratch This edition also includes more targeted exercises and checklists as well as the latest research on productivity and scholarly writing Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks is the only reference to combine expert guidance with a step by step workbook Each week readers learn a feature of strong articles and work on revising theirs accordingly Every day is mapped out taking the guesswork and worry out of writing There are tasks templates and reminders At the end of twelve weeks graduate students recent PhDs postdoctoral fellows adjunct instructors junior faculty and international faculty will feel confident they know that the rules of academic publishing and have the tools they need to succeed
