Drought Policies: Case Studies on Mega-droughts for the High Level Experts and Leaders Panel on Water and Disasters (HELP) Jerome Delli Prisco, Kenzo Hiroki, 2019-11-15 This book focuses on mega droughts of the past 20 years Twelve cases from both developed and developing countries are elaborated in the book Its intention is to draw lessons from the cases of extremely severe water shortages so that countries and stakeholders can be better prepared for extreme drought events in the future Several recurrent themes emerge from the diverse case studies and descriptions of programs For example most chapters discuss the necessity to move from reactive compensatory to preventive policies This theme has implications for use of insurance in developing countries e g is insurance encouraging investments to help countries avoid disasters or is it acting mostly in a humanitarian way to compensate for losses to help people Several authors point to the importance of risk assessment and to developing risk based policies for drought This raises statistical issues of how such assessments of uncertainty and risks are done and how they relate to actual occurrence of events Most chapters call for more inter sectoral policies policies which integrate water resources management approaches and to the necessity of raising public awareness of droughts in times of no drought The issue of structural versus nonstructural is clear in most cases While often cast as either or the message that emerges is more one of how do you integrate these approaches Finally a few chapters bring to light how prevention is needed for national security as well as water security In Focus a book series that showcases the latest accomplishments in water research Each book focuses on a specialist area with papers from top experts in the field It aims to be a vehicle for in depth understanding and inspire further conversations in the sector

Managing the Risks of Extreme Events and Disasters to Advance Climate Change Adaptation Christopher B. Field, Vicente Barros, Thomas F. Stocker, Qin Dahe, 2012-05-28 This Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change Special Report IPCC SREX explores the challenge of understanding and managing the risks of climate extremes to advance climate change adaptation Extreme weather and climate events interacting with exposed and vulnerable human and natural systems can lead to disasters Changes in the frequency and severity of the physical events affect disaster risk but so do the spatially diverse and temporally dynamic patterns of exposure and vulnerability Some types of extreme weather and climate events have increased in frequency or magnitude but populations and assets at risk have also increased with consequences for disaster risk Opportunities for managing risks of weather and climate related disasters exist or can be developed at any scale local to international Prepared following strict IPCC procedures SREX is an invaluable assessment for anyone interested in climate extremes environmental disasters and adaptation to climate change including policymakers the private sector and academic researchers

Applied Machine Learning for Assisted Living Zia

Uddin,2022-08-29 User care at home is a matter of great concern since unforeseen circumstances might occur that affect people's well-being. Technologies that assist people in independent living are essential for enhancing care in a cost-effective and reliable manner. Assisted care applications often demand real-time observation of the environment and the resident's activities using an event-driven system. As an emerging area of research and development, it is necessary to explore the approaches of the user care system in the literature to identify current practices for future research directions. Therefore, this book is aimed at a comprehensive review of data sources, e.g., sensors with machine learning for various smart user care systems. To encourage the readers in the field, insights of practical essence of different machine learning algorithms with sensor data, e.g., publicly available datasets, are also discussed. Some code segments are also included to motivate the researchers of the related fields to practically implement the features and machine learning techniques. It is an effort to obtain knowledge of different types of sensor-based user monitoring technologies in home environments. With the aim of adopting these technologies, research works and their outcomes are reported. Besides up-to-date references are included for the user monitoring technologies with the aim of facilitating independent living. Research that is related to the use of user monitoring technologies in assisted living is very widespread, but it still consists mostly of limited-scale studies. Hence, user monitoring technology is a very promising field, especially for long-term care. However, monitoring of the users for smart assisted technologies should be taken to the next level with more detailed studies that evaluate and demonstrate their potential to contribute to prolonging the independent living of people. The target of this book is to contribute towards that direction.

Urban Natures Ferne Edwards, Lucia Alexandra Popartan, Ida Nilstad Pettersen, 2023-09-15 Efforts to create greener urban spaces have historically taken many forms, often disorganized and undisciplined. Recently, however, the push towards greener cities has evolved into a more cohesive movement. Drawing from multidisciplinary case studies, Urban Natures examines the possibilities of an ethical, lively, multi-species city with the understanding that humanity's relationship to nature is politically constructed. Covering a wide range of sectors, cities, and urban spaces, as well as topics ranging from edible cities to issues of power and more than human methodologies, this volume pushes our imagination of a green urban future.

Brandweek, 2006 Oxford Textbook of Geriatric Medicine Jean-Pierre Michel, B. Lynn Beattie, Finbarr C. Martin, Jeremy D.
