Boas, Steffen Höder, 2021-06-15 The last few years have seen a steadily increasing interest in constructional approaches to language contact This volume builds on previous constructionist work in particular Diasystematic Construction Grammar DCxG and the volume Constructions in Contact 2018 and extends its methodology and insights in three major ways First it presents new constructional research on a wide range of language contact scenarios including Afrikaans American Sign Language English French Malayalam Norwegian Spanish Welsh as well as contact scenarios that involve typologically different languages Second it also addresses other types of scenarios that do not fall into the classic language contact category such as multilingual practices and language acquisition as emerging multilingualism Third it aims to integrate constructionist views on language contact and multilingualism with other approaches that focus on structural social and cognitive aspects The volume demonstrates that Construction Grammar is a framework particularly well suited for analyzing a wide variety of language contact phenomena from a usage based perspective Censored 2011 Mickey Huff, Peter Phillips, Project Censored, 2011-01-04 The yearly volumes of Censored in continuous publication since 1976 and since 1995 available through Seven Stories Press is dedicated to the stories that ought to be top features on the nightly news but that are missing because of media bias and self censorship The top stories are listed democratically in order of importance according to students faculty and a national panel of judges Each of the top stories is presented at length alongside updates from the investigative reporters who broke the stories Emotional Labour and Lesson Observation Ursula Edgington, 2016-11-21 This book presents research on emotion work and the emotional labour of teaching and learning based in England's further education sector where an increasing emphasis on marketised systems means accountability and audit cultures have become embedded within everyday teaching practice Uniquely this book explores micro level issues of the managerial policies relating to classroom lesson observations as well as the profoundly emotional philosophical aspects of these situations which research asserts cause stress and anxiety for many staff Drawing on theoretical psychosocial concepts exploring the interplay of hidden or underground micro and macro elements of teaching and learning contexts the book illuminates how the presence of an observer fundamentally alters the dynamics of a classroom The author argues that it is not necessarily the performativity that creates the stress and anxiety in an observation but the individual s perception of this performativity and how it relates to a wider consideration of their emotional labour in the classroom For this reason the book puts forward a case for ending the formal graded method of lesson observations in favour of a developmental holistic approach that is sensitive to the emotional nuances of the individuals involved as well as the social and historical contexts of the institutions in which they are situated The diverse use of lesson observations as a tool for staff development and quality assurance policies make this a valuable resource for educational researchers policy makers teachers and managers from many different sectors and backgrounds
