K. Singh, 2022-03-13 English has become a global language In the minds of many worldwide it guarantees a better life through enhanced social and economic opportunities As a result English teachers are in high demand Some claim that English is attractive because as it has spread throughout the world it has severed it s who adopt it Grammar rules and vocabulary can simply be taught to eager learners so they can use English for social and economic advancement However learning English is more than mastering a certain number of words and memorizing a set of grammar rules Although plugging words it is less effective for language learners Language acquisition studies have discovered that both native and nonnative speakers learn English best not by being taught rules but by interacting with other users of the language either orally or through print This interaction introduces a social element to grammar that brings with it hidden social messages For example suppose a language learner has been taught that English has a very simple way to make requests simply say the verb with no subject being expressed as in Open the door After class the student is carrying a pile of books and comes to a closed door What would be the reaction of other English speakers if the student were to shout out to someone passing nearby Open the door The student would probably be considered rude Could you please open the door which has the form of a question rather than a command would probably be considered more polite Suppose an English teacher sees one of her students writing with a crayon rather than a pencil She helpfully asks Don t you have a pencil If the student answers yes does that mean that the student does or does not have a pencil The answer depends on which part of the world the student is from

A Pac-Man Perspective on Organisational Change Petter Ogland,2017-12 Living theory is a way of making use of personal accounts of experienced practice As the Pac Man perspective on organisational change helps the change agent articulate the personal values he is committed to and how these values may be resisted in practice living theory is useful for developing knowledge that has a practical impact on self improvement and social change but it is also a type of theory that is difficult to publish in academic outlets As a consequence of this publishing Pac Man living theory research becomes a Pac Man game in itself with the journal editors as one of the four adversary gatekeepers but it is a rewarding game for those who want to contribute both theoretically and practically on how to make the world a better place
