China Smart Larry Herzberg, 2019-05-21 Essential essays on all things Chinese that inform and entertain travelers students and anyone working or living in China How is China organized politically What are the issues that young people face in today's China What is China doing about its problem with pollution Is the Chinese internet like our internet What's China's role in the world today And how much do you know about China's great woman emperor or the Chinese explorer whose voyages may have inspired the legend of Sinbad the Sailor What are the major Chinese holidays their superstitions regarding numbers and the true nature of the Chinese written language In nearly 60 brief essays long time China expert Larry Herzberg tackles important facts and myths about China its history people and culture as well as its contemporary society Anyone dipping into this book will emerge that much smarter about China whether visiting conducting business studying the language or simply being fascinated by one of the world's greatest and most influential civilizations Teaching English

Reading in the Chinese-Speaking World Clay Williams, 2016-04-07 This book investigates inherent structural differences in the Chinese and English writing systems which predispose learners from childhood to develop specific literacy learning strategies which can impair later efforts at learning foreign language literacy if the foreign language script varies significantly from the native language script It compares educational practices and philosophies in Chinese and English speaking classrooms and examines the psychological underpinnings of these literacy learning strategies This book presents psychometric testing of adult reading strategy defaults and examines case study data revealing that Chinese students are susceptible to misapplying Chinese character level processing strategies to English word identification tasks which decreases reading efficiency and ultimately can lead to learning failure Finally a new educational framework is proposed for teaching beginning language specific word identification and literacy learning skills to learners whose first language script varies significantly from that of the target language Learn to Speak French for Chinese Simplified Speakers Nam H

Notes on the Chinese documentary style Friedrich Hirth, 1888 Early 21st-Century Power Struggles of Chinese Languages Teaching in US Higher Education Ya-chen Chen, 2018-10-12 This book exclusively focuses on visible and under the table power struggles with regards to aspects of communities connections cultures and communication related to Chinese language teaching in US higher education in the past two decades As long as there are diverse communities in a society conflicts between different groups of people become inevitable and these lead in turn to power struggles Once there are conflicts or power struggles among various communities problematic subtleties about connections to different communities as well as comparisons and contrasts of social varieties and cultural legacies indubitably ensue Speaking American Zevi Gutfreund, 2019-03-07 When Lyndon B Johnson signed the Bilingual Education Act of 1968 language learning became a touchstone in the emerging culture wars Nowhere was this more apparent than in Los Angeles where elected officials from both political parties had supported the legislation and where the most disruptive protests over it occurred The city with its diverse population of Latinos and Asian Americans is the ideal locus for Zevi Gutfreund's study of how language instruction informed the social construction of American citizenship Combining the history of language instruction school desegregation and civil rights activism as it unfolded in Japanese American and Mexican American communities in L A this timely book clarifies the critical and evolving role of language instruction in twentieth century American politics Speaking American reveals how for generations language instruction offered a forum for Angelino educators to articulate their responses to policies that racialized access to citizenship from the national origins immigration quotas of the Progressive Era through Congress's removal of race from these quotas in 1965 Meanwhile immigrant communities designed language experiments to counter efforts to limit their liberties Gutfreund's book is the first to place the experiences of Mexican Americans and Japanese Americans side by side as they navigated debates over Americanization programs intercultural education school desegregation and bilingual education In the process the book shows these language experiments helped Angelino immigrants introduce competing concepts of citizenship that were tied to their actions and deeds rather than to the English language itself Complicating the usual top down approach to the history of racial politics in education Speaking American recognizes the ways in which immigrant and ethnic activists as well as white progressives and conservatives have been deeply invested in controlling public and private aspects of language instruction in Los Angeles The book brings compelling analytic depth and breadth to its examination of the social and political landscape in a city still at the epicenter of American immigration politics Enhancing Beginner-Level Foreign Language Education for Adult Learners Ekaterina Nemtchinova, 2022-12-30 This book is an authoritative text that explores best classroom practices for engaging adult learners in beginner level foreign language courses Built around a diverse range of international research studies and conceptual articles the book covers four key issues in teaching language to novice students development of linguistic skills communicative and intercultural competence evaluation and assessment and the use of technology Each chapter includes teaching insights that are supported by critical research and can be practically applied across languages to enhance instructional strategies and curriculum designs The text also aims to build intercultural competence harness technology and design assessment to stimulate effective learning in formal instructional settings including colleges universities and specialist language schools With its broad coverage of language pedagogy at the novice level this book is a must read for graduate students scholars researchers and practitioners in the fields of language education second language acquisition language teaching and learning and applied linguistics A Frequency Dictionary of Mandarin Chinese Richard Xiao, 2015-06-18

Y. Shaw,2017-02-22 Carl Schmitt and Leo Strauss in the Chinese Speaking World Reorienting the Political examines the reception of Carl Schmitt and Leo Strauss in China and Taiwan The legacies of both Schmitt the German legal theorist and thinker who joined the Nazi party and Strauss the German Jewish classicist and political philosopher who became famous after his emigration to the United States are highly controversial Since the 1990s however these thinkers have had a powerful resonance for Chinese scholars Today when Chinese intellectuals debate the Chinese state the future role of China in the world the liberal international order and even the meaning of Confucian civilization they often employ Schmittian and Straussian concepts like the political friend enemy state of exception liberal education and natural right The very possibility of a genuine Chinese political theory is often thought to be tied to the legacy of these two thinkers This volume explores this complex phenomenon with a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach The twelve essays in this volume are written from a range of perspectives by philosophers political theorists historians and legal scholars from China Germany Taiwan and the United States Learning a non-native language in a naturalistic environment: Insights from behavioural and neuroimaging research Christos Pliatsikas,Vicky Chondrogianni,2015-09-02 It is largely accepted in the relevant literature that successful learning of one or more non native languages is affected by a number of factors that are independent of the target language s per se these factors include the age of acquisition AoA of the target language s the type and amount of formal instruction the learners have received as well as the amount of language use that the learners demonstrate Recent experimental evidence suggests that one crucial factor for efficient native like performance in the non native language is the amount of naturalistic exposure or immersion that the learners receive to that language This can be broadly defined as the degree to which language learners use their non native language outside the classroom and for their day to day activities and usually presupposes that the learners live in an environment where their non native language is exclusively or mostly used Existing literature has suggested that linguistic immersion can be beneficial for lexical and semantic acquisition in a non native language as well as for non native morphological and syntactic processing More recent evidence has also suggested that naturalistic learning of a non native language can also have an impact on the patterns of brain activity underlying language processing as well as on the structure of brain regions that are involved expressed as changes in the grey matter structure This Research Topic brings together studies on the effects of learning and speaking a non native language in a naturalistic environment These include more efficient or native like processing in behavioural tasks tapping on language lexicon morphology syntax as well as changes in the brain structure and function as revealed by neuroimaging studies

Aspects of Language and Learning

M.A.K. Halliday, 2016-03-22 This book is based on a series of lectures which begin with a look at the history of the language that we use in order to encode our knowledge particularly our scientific knowledge i e the history of scientific English Prof M A K Halliday poses the question of how a growing child comes to master this kind of language and put it to his or her own use as a means of learning In subsequent chapters Halliday explores the relationship between language education and culture again taking the language of science as the focal point for the discussion and finally he draws these various themes together to construct a linguistic interpretation of how we learn and how we learn how to learn

Language Learning with

Technology Lindsay Miller, Junjie Gavin Wu, 2021-08-31 This book is about language learning with technology offering readers theoretical insights as well as practical case studies with a focus on Asia and Asian students Although technology is rapidly advancing and most if not all students are already using technology in their everyday lives traditional teaching learning practices still exist throughout Asia This book provides examples written by representative educators from a variety of countries regions and contexts where technology has successfully been used to enhance language learning In addition to some everyday examples of using technology Wikipedia PowerPoint Google Docs and YouTube the book also offers the readers an insight into the future possible uses of advanced technology Augmented Reality Virtual Reality Artificial Intelligence and Eye Tracking The book presents illustrations of how teachers can and perhaps should be open to integrating some form of technology into in class learning or using it to supplement out of class activities

Globalizations from Below Theodor Tudoroiu, 2022-09-09 Globalizations from Below uses a Constructivist International Relations approach that emphasizes the centrality of normative power to analyze and compare the four globalizations from below These are 1 the counter hegemonic globalization represented by the movement of movements of alter globalization transnational social activists who try to put an end to the Neoliberal nature of the Western centered globalization from above 2 the non hegemonic globalization enacted by ant traders that are part of the transnational informal economy 3 the partially similar Chinese centered globalization whose entrepreneurial migrants are strongly influenced and instrumentalized by the Chinese state and 4 the first wave globalization from below that paralleled and outlived the 1870 1914 globalization from above This book identifies their common features and uses them to define the concept of globalization from below as a set of socio economic or socio political processes that involve large transnational flows of people goods and or ideas characterized at least in part by informality They are enacted by entrepreneurial or activist individuals who either take advantage of the normative power of the hegemon at the origin of an international order and an associated globalization from above or explicitly or implicitly transgress contest and try to redefine dominant economic legal political and socio cultural norms thus challenging the existing international order and globalization from above By constructing a unified theoretical framework this book attempts to open a new field of interdisciplinary research that should take globalizations from below out of their current scholarly marginality This is one of the first scholarly works to collectively present more than one globalization from below and will be of great interest to students scholars and researchers of International Relations International Political Economy Development Studies Economic History Anthropology Diaspora Studies and Chinese Studies
