Learning Construct 2:

Learning Construct 2 Aryadi Subagio, 2014-12-26 If you want to make your own game but don't know how to start or don't have the technical skills to do it then this is the book for you. You don't need to have a programming background to understand the concepts explained. Construct 3 and 2 for Beginners Cotterill, 2018-06-08 Learn Construct 2 and 3 easily as we guide you through each step while making a game that you can test out. There are lots of images so you can easily pick up what's going on with each step of the Book Bonus included is my game that I created so that you can see how it's made in Construct 2 and add functions to your own games. The way the book is designed makes it easy for users new to Construct 2 and 3 to pick up new topics fast. Learning and Education Games: Volume Two: Bringing Games into Educational Contexts Karen Schrier Shaenfeld, 2016 The Learning Education Games book series is perfect for any educator or developer seeking an introduction to research-driven best practices for using and designing games for learning. This volume Bringing Games into Educational Contexts delves into the challenges of creating games and implementing them in educational settings. This book covers relevant issues such as gamification curriculum development using games to support ASD autism spectrum disorder students choosing games for the classroom and library homeschooling and gameschooling working with parents and policymakers and choosing tools for educational game development. Learning Education Games: Bringing Games into Educational Contexts is the second in a series written and edited by members of the Learning Education and Games LEG special interest group of the IGDA International Game Developers Association. Constructing Measures Mark Wilson, 2023-06-05 Constructing Measures introduces a way to understand the advantages and disadvantages of measurement instruments. It explains the ways to use such instruments and how to apply these methods to develop new instruments or adapt old ones based on item response modeling and construct references. Now in its second edition this book focuses on the steps taken while constructing an instrument and breaks down the building blocks that make up an instrument: the construct map, the design plan for the items, the outcome space and the statistical measurement model. The material covers a variety of item formats including multiple choice, open-ended and performance items, projects, portfolios, Likert and Guttman items, behavioral observations and interview protocols. Each chapter includes an overview of the key concepts, related resources for further investigation and exercises and activities. A variety of examples from the behavioral and social sciences and education including achievement and performance testing, attitude measures, health measures and general sociological scales demonstrate the application of the material. New to this edition are additional example contexts including a cognitive achievement example, an attitude example and a behavioral example and new concentrations on specific measurement issues and practices such as standard setting, computer delivery and reporting and going beyond the Likert response format. Constructing Measures is an invaluable text for undergraduate and graduate courses on item test or instrument development, measurement, item response theory or Rasch analysis taught in a variety of departments including education statistics and psychology The book also appeals to practitioners who develop instruments including industrial organizational educational and school psychologists health outcomes researchers program evaluators and sociological measurers

Learning Challenges for Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CLD) Students With Disabilities Fallah, Soraya, Reynolds, Bronte, Murawski, Wendy, 2020-01-10 When children with learning challenges are identified the educational community in the United States diligently applies a well established model of remediation that has for the most part yielded positive results Research however has demonstrated that the American perception of disability may vary from those in Eastern cultures These cultural differences can play a significant role in the failure to achieve learning success on behalf of children from the Middle East North Africa and Southwest Asian MENASWA families It is critical for the school community to recognize and acknowledge these differences and bring them into alignment in order to meet these students learning needs Learning Challenges for Culturally and Linguistically Diverse CLD Students With Disabilities is an essential reference publication that identifies ways in which CLD families can be involved with schools to help build educators cultural competence and explores the idea of disabilities as a social model with a focus on strengths rather than a medical model focused on needs and weaknesses Featuring coverage on a wide range of topics including racial identity leadership wisdom and family school collaboration this book is ideally designed for educators principals administrators curriculum developers instructional designers policymakers advocates researchers academicians and students
