Contextual Anger Regulation Therapy Frank L. Gardner, Zella E. Moore, 2013-07-24 Anger is a natural human emotion that can serve important survival functions but the excessive presence of anger and its associated negative outcomes such as aggression and violence can lead to significant interpersonal intrapersonal occupational legal familial societal and physical health problems Unfortunately clinical anger clients haven't historically been helped in truly sustainable ways and loved ones and society at large are often left to simply watch as these individuals struggle to overcome their anger and the noxious behaviors that often emanate from this troubling condition Contextual Anger Regulation Therapy gives clinicians the power to change this The book presents an exciting nine module mindfulness and acceptance based behavioral treatment program that has been effectively utilized in formal clinical settings with clinical anger clients including those mandated for treatment following both non domestic and domestic violence Treatment success has not only been demonstrated in observable ways including significant reductions in violence recidivism and marked improvements in quality of life it has also been seen in scientific data both in the laboratory and with large numbers of mandated clinical anger clients Geropsychology Assessment Resource Guide, 1993 Handbook of Behavioral and Cognitive Therapies with Older Adults Dolores Gallagher Thompson, Ann Steffen, Larry W.
