Product Recalls and Their Impact draws together key insights and research findings from a global research project on product safety and recalls. The book presents detailed case studies of six extended global supply chains within three industries: toys, food, and pharmaceuticals. These case studies cover U.S. companies with supply chains that extend into China and provide the perspectives of both U.S. and Chinese executives. It includes coverage of several highly publicized product recalls, including Ford Pinto, Extra Strength Tylenol, melamine-tainted milk, Mattel, and Toyota. Presenting detailed examples of both poor and best practices, the text supplies firsthand accounts from key players in well-known product recalls. It outlines an event study methodology that can help readers determine the true financial impact of a product recall announcement. It also describes how to conduct controlled experiments to determine the effect of various recall strategies on consumers. The book describes how alternative product recall strategies can influence consumers' perception of your organization's corporate social legitimacy, as well as their future purchasing behaviors. Although the text focuses on product quality within the supply chain, it also sheds light on other sources of product hazards, sharing a wide-ranging perspective and current methodologies.

corporate scholars for example have attempted to introduce American legal theories systems and laws on CSR into Korea Yet traditional Korean jurisprudence provides no defining foundation for CSR indeed the prevailing view in jurisprudence and scholarship passively resists instituting corporate responsibility into the law In response to this jurisprudential and academic shortcoming and as an example for other countries this book provides a comprehensive guide to the relevant legislation and theory on CSR in Korean corporate law by employing a comparative study of the relevant American theories and laws Proceeding from this analysis the book then puts forward a legislative blueprint for establishing a foundation to legitimize and effectively implement CSR
