IBM System x3400 M2 provides flexible capabilities and outstanding performance that drives affordable business growth

[Suggested users: Small/medium businesses, large multilocation enterprises and bank branch offices seeking scalability, top performance and availability features at an entry-level price.]

The dual-socket IBM® System x3400 M2, incorporating IBM X-Architecture™ features, provides outstanding value to workgroups by combining scalable performance and availability features at an outstanding price. The x3400 M2 supports the latest quad- and dual-core Intel® Xeon™ 5500 series (NetBurst) processors, designed with up to 1066MHz memory access, and 8MB (4-core) or 4MB (two-core) of L2 cache and Hyper-Threading Technology, to help provide you with the computing power you need to match your business needs and growth. In addition, the x3400 M2 supports industry-standard registered DDR-3 memory with Chipkill® ECC (Error Checking and Correcting) protection—for high performance, energy savings, and reliability. For even higher levels of availability, the x3400 M2 also offers memory mirroring. A dual-port integrated high-speed Gigabit Ethernet controller is standard, as are high-performance PCIe adapter slots and a legacy PCI-32 slot to support legacy expansion cards.

All models offer impressive scalability, including dual-processor support and up to 64GB of memory. Some models support eight high-performance 2.5-inch hot-swap Serial-Attach SCSI (SAS) HDDs with an internal storage capacity of up to 2.4TB. Other models support up to four 3.5-inch simple-swap Serial ATA II (SATA II) hard disk drives with a total capacity of up to 3.6TB*, or up to four 3.5-inch high-performance hot-swap Serial-Attach SCSI (SAS) drives with an internal storage capacity of 1.2TB, or up to four hot-swap SATA II hard disk drives with a total capacity of up to 4.0TB. For additional performance and high availability, the hot-swap x3400 M2 models include an IBM ServeRAID®-MR10i controller, providing RAID-0/1/1E support. Additional RAID support is available via the optional IBM ServeRAID™ family of SAS/SATA controllers, which support RAID-1/1E/10/5/6, and even full-drive hardware encryption. The x3400 M2 ships as a tower unit; CTO models can be ordered as a 5U rack-mounted server to help save precious data-center floor space.

Standard in the x3400 M2 is an Integrated Management Module (IMM) that enables users to manage and control the server easily—both locally and, using an optional Virtual Media Key, remotely. Unified Extensible Firmware Interface (UEFI) is an evolutionary leap over legacy BIOS. This high level of manageability is designed to keep costs down and the system up—even when network usage increases. These advanced features help maximize network availability by increasing uptime, as do hot-swap/redundant HDDs, Active Memory™, temperature-controlled fans with Calibrated Vectored Cooling™, industry-standard IPMI 2.0 support, including highly secure remote power control and Serial over LAN, as well as text-console redirect over LAN.

With the inclusion of unique IBM service and support features such as IBM Systems Director, IBM Systems Director Active Energy Manager, ServerGuide™, and the IMM, the x3400 M2 is equally well designed for a locally managed data center environment as for a remotely managed or stand-alone environment, while offering maximum availability.

For a balance of high-performance dual-core, dual-socket processing, high availability and vast internal SAS storage at a budget price, the x3400 M2 is the ideal system.
