Development Policy and Administration Dr. Alok Verma, 2021-09-10 Development administration is concerned with plans policies programmes and projects which focus on nation building and socio economic development It aims to achieve socio economic goals through the talents and expertise of bureaucrats Development administration focuses on the results to be achieved rather than the traditionalist view of strict adherence to rules and hierarchy Strict adherence to rules creates rigidity delay and procrastination The essence of development administration is to bring about change through integrated organised and properly directed governmental action In the recent past the governments in most of the developing nations have shifted their focus on development by means of planned change and people's participation With this shift of administrative concern towards developmental objectives the researchers and practitioners of Public Administration have been forced to conceptualise the developmental situation and to bridge the gaps in the administrative theory The growing welfare functions of the government have brought into the limelight the limitations of the traditional theory of administration The essence of administration in the present conditions lies in its capacity to bring about change in the structure and behaviour of different administrative institutions to develop an acceptance for the change and to create a system that can sustain change and improve the capacity of institutions to change All this calls for renewed efforts on the part of institutions engaged in the tasks of development Thus development administration as an area of study and as means to realise developmental goals assumes importance This book contains plenty of substance for scholars but the writing has the verve and clarity to seize and entertain the general reader as well Contents Role of NGOs and Voluntary Organisations Economic Policy in India Since Independence Local Self Government Meaning Nature and Scope Concept of Rural Development Centralization and Decentralization Population Urban Environment and Health in India      Foreign Commerce Weekly United States. Department of Commerce,1962      Brand New Justice Simon Anholt,2006-08-11 Recently vilified as the prime dynamic driving home the breach between poor and rich nations here the branding process is rehabilitated as a potential saviour of the economically underprivileged Brand New Justice now in a revised paperback edition systematically analyses the success stories of the Top Thirteen nations demonstrating that their wealth is based on the last mile of the commercial process buying raw materials and manufacturing cheaply in third world countries these countries realise their lucrative profits by adding value through finishing packaging and marketing and then selling the branded product on to the end user at a hugely inflated price The use of sophisticated global media techniques alongside a range of creative marketing activities are the lynchpins of this process Applying his observations on economic history and the development and impact of global marketing Anholt presents a cogent plan for developing nations to benefit from globalization So long the helpless victim of capitalist trading systems he shows that they can cross the divide and graduate from supplier nation to producer nation Branding native produce on a global scale making a commercial virtue out of perceived authenticity and otherness and fully capitalising on the last mile benefits are key to this graduation and fundamental to forging a new global economic balance Anholt argues with a forceful logic but also backs his hypothesis with enticing glimpses of this process actually beginning to take place Examining activities in India Thailand Russia and Africa among others he shows the risks challenges and pressures inherent in turning the tide but above all he demonstrates the very real possibility of enlightened capitalism working as a force for good in global terms      International Business Peter J.
