Cross-Cultural Research Fons J. R. van de Vijver,Kwok Leung,2021-06-24 This book gives an up to date overview of methodological and data analytical issues of cross cultural studies Written by leading experts in the field it presents the most important tools for doing cross cultural research and outlines design considerations methods and analytical techniques that can improve ecological validity and help researchers to avoid pitfalls in cross cultural psychology By focusing on the relevant research questions that can be tackled with particular methods it provides practical guidance on how to translate conceptual questions into decisions on study design and statistical techniques Featuring examples from cognitive and educational assessment personality health and intercultural communication and management and illustrating key techniques in feature boxes this concise and accessible guide is essential reading for researchers graduate students and professionals who work with culture comparative data Experiments in Agency Supriya Baily,Farnoosh Shahrokhi,Tami Carsillo,2017-04-13 This book is about teacher agency and leadership but it is also an experiment in shifting the balance of power in research and writing It is about making accessible the process of academic publishing in a way that capitalizes on the knowledge of people in diverse contexts and with novice eyes and is an experiment in sharing academic writing between master teachers and doctoral students. It is also a book on the power of action research and the belief we have as teacher educators about the transformative power of teachers in their own classrooms. Pairing master teachers from ten countries who were part of the Teaching Excellence and Achievement Program with graduate students, this book provides a framework to decolonize research practices in an effort to re-envision research methodologies on a global scale. The book also provides a tangible way to see how research processes support local transformation and direct engagement of those at the margins to play a greater role in the production of scholarly knowledge. The cross-national scope of this book, with authors working in classrooms in countries as diverse as Turkey, Chile, and Bangladesh, coupled with the work of novice US-based scholars to engage in the conceptualizing, researching, data analysis, and writing of chapters, speaks to the importance of new voices in the field of research. Additionally, the combination of teacher research projects in the classroom juxtaposed with chapters that speak to the process of teacher research in a global context provides both theoretical and empirical foundations for teacher research.

Research in Psychiatry L.K. George Hsu,Michel

Hersen, 2013-11-11 This multiauthored textbook is directed to the psychiatric resident and other professionals who are interested in the issues, strategies and methods of psychiatric research. Although the field of psychiatry has not attained the scientific rigor and clinical sophistication of some of its sister disciplines in the medical arena, considerable progress has been made in the last decade or two, and a full understanding of the types of articles that now appear in such publications as the American Journal of Psychiatry, the Archives of General Psychiatry and the Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry requires a fair amount of knowledge about research design and strategy. Whereas articles in psychiatric journals 20 years ago dealt mainly with psychodynamic topics and utilized nonexperimental observations, today their counterparts are concerned mostly with psychobiology, clinical features, diagnosis and treatment, and employ scientific experimental designs. The trend of applying scientific methodology to research in psychiatry is increasing and undoubtedly will continue to do so in the future.
