Before Kukulkán David A. Freidel, Andrea Cucina, Travis W. Stanton, Vera Tiesler, 2017 This volume illuminates human lifeways in the northern Maya lowlands prior to the rise of Chich n Itz This period and area have been poorly understood on their own terms obscured by scholarly focus on the central lowland Maya kingdoms Before Kukulcán is anchored in three decades of interdisciplinary research at the Classic Maya capital of Yaxun located at a contentious crossroads of the northern Maya lowlands Using bioarchaeology mortuary archaeology and culturally sensitive mainstream archaeology the authors create an in depth regional understanding while also laying out broader ways of learning about the Maya past Part 1 examines ancient lifeways among the Maya at Yaxun while part 2 explores different meanings of dying and cycling at the settlement and beyond ancestral practices royal entombment and desecration and human sacrifice The authors close with a discussion of the last years of occupation at Yaxun and the role of Chichén Itz in the abandonment of this urban center Before Kukulcán provides a cohesive synthesis of the evolving roles and collective identities of locals and foreigners at the settlement and their involvement in the region's trajectory Theoretically informed and contextualized discussions offer unique glimpses of everyday life and death in the socially fluid Maya city These findings in conjunction with other documented series of skeletal remains from this region provide a nuanced picture of the social and biocultural dynamics that operated successfully for centuries before the arrival of the Itz
