©Harvard Medical School 2009

Our organisms manufacture antibodies automatically to many molecules, proteins, and microorganisms. Among others, when foreign red-cell surface glycoproteins (antigens) are in the bloodstream they stimulate the immune system to manufacture antibodies against them. These antibodies (antibodies) are proteins that bind to the antigens and cause them to be removed from the body. The antibodies are called anti (against) because they react with substances that stimulate their production.

1. Blood types in the human population are characterized by their presence or absence of antigens on their surfaces and their anti (against) antibodies.

a. How many of Model 1's body-carrying blood types are found in the human population?

b. Which blood is used in Model 1 to represent anti-A antibodies?

c. What combination is type A with blood and from a type B red blood cell?
