The software solutions should be integrated to provide a unified view of the business. This can be achieved by implementing a central data warehouse or data lake, which allows for the integration of data from various sources. This data can then be used to create a single source of truth, which can be used to drive decision-making across the organization. The software solutions should also be able to integrate with other systems, such as CRM, ERP, and HR systems, to provide a comprehensive view of the business.
