

Structure of the Heart

Laboratory Exercise 41

Background

The heart is a muscular pump located within the mediastinum and rests upon the diaphragm. It is enclosed by the lungs, thoracic vertebrae, and sternum. Attached at its top (the base) are several large blood vessels. Its distal end extends downward to the left and terminates as a bluntly pointed apex.

The heart and the proximal ends of the attached blood vessels are enclosed by a double-layered pericardium. The inner layer of this membrane (visceral pericardium) consists of a thin covering that is closely applied to the surface of the heart, whereas the outer layer (parietal pericardium with fibrous pericardium) forms a tough, protective sac surrounding the heart.
