The following table shows the results of the regression analysis for the dependent variable perceptions of the effectiveness of the government's response to the crisis. The model explains 41% of the variance in the dependent variable. The results show that the independent variables trust in the government and perceptions of the government's response to the crisis are significant predictors of the dependent variable. The results also show that the interaction term trust in the government × perceptions of the government's response to the crisis is significant.
