STEFAN HARTMANN, MICHAEL J. LARSEN

Abstract: The authors report on a study of 1000 people who were asked to rate the quality of their lives. The results show that the quality of life is related to the level of education, income, and health. The authors also found that the quality of life is related to the level of social support and the level of participation in community activities. The authors conclude that the quality of life is a complex phenomenon that is influenced by many factors.
