

FALSE REPORT OF A CRIME

G.L. c. 26B, § 13A

The defendant is charged with making a false report of a crime.

In order to prove the defendant guilty of this offense, the Commonwealth must prove four things beyond a reasonable doubt:

First:* That the defendant reported a crime to a police officer, or caused such a report to be made;

Second:* That the report was false;

Third:* That the defendant intended to make the false report to a police officer and it was not made merely by accident or through negligence; and

Fourth:* That the defendant knew that the report (he) (she) was making or causing to be made was false.

Commonwealth v. Sawyer, 84 Mass. App. Ct. 346, 351-352 (2013).

If the Commonwealth has proved all four elements beyond a reasonable doubt, you should return a verdict of guilty. If the Commonwealth has failed to prove any element of the offense beyond a reasonable doubt, you must return a verdict of not guilty.

See Instructions 3.120 (Intent) and 3.140 (Knowledge).
