

Dear Parents,

As the school year comes to a close I want to take a moment to say thanks. Thank you for sharing your pride and joy with me. I have done my best to keep your child safe and happy this school year. I have enjoyed all the hugs, smiles, and kind words your child has shared with me. Thank you for supporting all of my efforts. Thank you for getting up early to make sure your child made it to school on time, for taking the time to read and sign all the notes and forms that have come home, and for reading with your child, helping them with their math homework and helping them learn. And last but not least, thank you for loving your child.

Sincerely,
Miss Dewey

Farewell Letter To Parents From Teacher:

My Teacher Is Gay Peter Van Maaren, 2011-02-21 How does a teacher especially a gay teacher respond to the gradual increase in ethnic minorities in the student body My Teacher is Gay tells the story of Peter van Maaren who recounts his experiences at a community college in Amsterdam as the school undergoes significant changes His upbeat and sometimes disconcerting stories involve not only his interactions with students but also his fellow faculty members and school administration As it turned out thanks to his openness and sense of humor his sexual orientation was not an issue for most of the students and their parents It was often much more difficult to convince his colleagues and the administrators that a gay teacher does not automatically pose a threat to the school His goal was to show that cultivating mutual understanding respect and tolerance can actually make a positive contribution to the learning atmosphere By being open and honest about his identity he achieved far more with his students than he did when the school administration ordered him to keep quiet about his orientation and try to ignore any remarks about it The Gay Krant editorial staff in Best has received a growing number of complaints about intolerance in education Students today are afraid to be open about their feelings and teachers report being forced back in the closet In response to this alarming trend we publish interviews in the paper Many are anonymous because the subjects are so afraid to go public Consequently I am thrilled that Peter van Maaren is the first to come forward to share his story A highly worth reading and at times moving account Now we can only hope that politicians policymakers and other involved parties will learn something from it Henk Krol Gay Krant editor in chief Education is not a matter of filling a vessel Education is certainly not a budgeting exercise for administrators Education is about lighting a fire of wisdom and humanity Let this book by Peter van Maaren offer inspiration to do just that Jan Marijnissen floor leader of the Dutch Socialist Party

Teacher Education for Inclusion Chris Forlin, 2010-06-10 How teachers might best be prepared to work in schools with an increasingly diverse pupil population is of concern to educational academics professionals and governments around the world Changes that have taken place in legislation and practice often fail to taken into account how practitioners can ensure that all children and young people are able to achieve The focus of this international text is on innovative practices for preparing teachers to work in inclusive classrooms and schools Drawing on both pre and in service training methods the expert contributors to this book follow three major themes social and political challenges regarding teacher education providing an historical perspective on the training of teachers tensions in preparing teachers for inclusion cultural issues the relationship between educational funding and practices and collaborative measures to support a whole school approach innovative approaches in pre service teacher preparation discussing a range of innovative models and approaches used in pre service teacher education courses engaging professional development for inservice teachers reviewing a range of approaches employed to engage working teachers and help them establish curricula and pedagogy that meets the needs of all students in their classes Each chapter will include a list of proposed learning outcomes a theoretical or conceptual framework to help readers develop the proposed innovation an overview of recent research discussion of the research data available and a discussion of the international implications and challenges summarising in suggestions for a positive way forward Teacher Education for Inclusion Changing Paradigms and Innovative Approaches is essential reading for practising teacher educators school leaders university lecturers in education and post graduate students National Parent-teacher ,1927 Alternative Schools in British Columbia 1960-1975 Harley Rothstein,2024-07-18 The tumultuous 1960s was an era of the counterculture political activism and resistance to authority Conventions and values were challenged and new approaches to education captured the imaginations of parents teachers and students Reacting against the one size fits all nature of the traditional public school system groups of parents and teachers in Canada and the United States established alternative schools or free schools based on the Progressive child centred philosophy of John Dewey and the Romantic ideas of Summerhill founder A S Neill In Alternative Schools in British Columbia 1960 1975 Harley Rothstein tells the story of ten such schools that arose in the province of British Columbia Drawing on 350 self conducted interviews newspaper articles personal journals and school records Dr Rothstein invites readers to experience the early days of alternative schools He describes the educational philosophy curriculum and governance of these institutions and introduces readers to the people who were at the heart of alternative communities Tracing the evolution successes and challenges of each school he presents the day to day experience and brings to life the ethos of the 1960s era Historians educators and all curious readers will become immersed in this engaging account of a group of educational pioneers on Canada s west coast and how they inspired the liberalization of the public school system that would come in the 1970s National Parent-teacher Magazine ,1917 At Home in School (1988) Viv Edwards,Angela Redfern,2017-09-29 Originally published in 1988 this book discusses the gradual move from the separation of home and school to an increasing acceptance of the central role of parents as partners in their children s education The book looks at the progress made towards real partnership with parents An eminently practical account of the advantages of working with parents and the ways in which this can be achieved it will be of special value to student teachers and practicing teachers and to parents interested and involved in their children s education The authors review national trends and developments since the issue was first seriously raised by the Plowden Report in 1967 Then focusing on one urban primary school Redlands Primary School Reading they describe the changes which have taken place over a seven year period from the perspective of teachers parents and children The book includes a personal account by Angela Redfern formerly Deputy Head at Redlands of what it has been like to be a teacher during this period of change and telling comments from both parents and children on all aspects of involvement in school Partnership with parents emerges as a course of action which reaps benefits for all concerned and the authors stress that the developments taking place in schools like Redland are important for all schools irrespective of their social class or ethnic composition Momentous Events, Vivid Memories David B. Pillemer,2009-07-01 The bombing of Pearl Harbor the assassination of President Kennedy the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger every generation has unforgettable events the shared memory of which can create fleeting intimacy among strangers These public memories combined with poignant personal moments the first day of college a baseball game with one's father praise from a mentor are the critical shaping events of individual lives Although experimental memory studies have long been part of empirical psychology and psychotherapy has focused on repressed or traumatizing memories relatively little attention has been paid to the inspiring touching amusing or revealing moments that highlight most lives What makes something unforgettable How do we learn to share the significance of memories David Pillemer's research brought together in this gracefully written book extends the current study of narrative and specific memory Drawing on a variety of evidence and methods cognitive and developmental psychology cross cultural study psychotherapy case studies autobiographies and diaries Pillemer elaborates on five themes the function of memory how children learn to construct and share personal memories memory as a complex interactive system of image emotion and narrative individual and group differences in memory function and performance and how unique events linger in memory and influence lives A provocative last chapter full of striking examples considers potential variations in memory across gender culture and personality Momentous Events Vivid Memories is itself a compelling and memorable book
