Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2012 Federal Register, 2012-11 Creating Engaging Discussions Jennifer H. Herman, Linda B. Nilson, 2023-07-03 If you have ever been apprehensive about initiating classroom discussion fearing silences the domination of a couple of speakers superficial contributions or off topic remarks this book provides strategies for creating a positive learning experience Jennifer H Herman and Linda B Nilson demonstrate how to create the conditions to facilitate deep and meaningful learning as well as to assess the effectiveness of discussions They identify analyze and solve common problems in both classroom and online discussions and in both small and large classes They take a direct practice oriented approach that in acknowledging common challenges provides principles guidance on design examples of activities and techniques and eight detailed case studies These cases demonstrate successful approaches that faculty across disciplines and from a variety of institutions have adopted in their face to face blended or online courses at the undergraduate or graduate level The case authors begin by describing the original pedagogical challenge they faced and explain how they addressed it and assessed the results of their innovation They also offer practical recommendations to readers who may want to try their strategies Intended for faculty this book will be equally valuable for educational developers who can use this resource in their programs and private consultations At the graduate level this book can serve as a text or workshop resource in college teaching courses and teaching assistant development programs The final chapter provides a set of resources and activities including discussion questions on the case studies writing prompts and jigsaw formats that are equally appropriate for individual study or for use in workshop environments You ll never again have to suffer such a profound silence that as described by a contributor to the book she could hear the crickets chirping outside

Making School Integration Work Paul Tractenberg, Allison Roda, Ryan Coughlan, Deirdre Dougherty, 2020 Many American schools continue to struggle with segregation This important book tells the story of how two school districts one a predominantly White and wealthy suburban community and the other a more diverse and urbanized community were merged into a single district to work toward a solution for school segregation The authors focus on the Morris School District in New Jersey as an exemplar to demonstrate what is possible and how it can be accomplished They document what makes a district like Morris successful and include lessons learned in each chapter Along with analyzing the legal and educational policy implications of the nearly 50 year history of the merged district the authors take a mixed methods approach to deepen our knowledge of effective leadership community school relations and classroom practices in the context of a community committed to genuine integration Book Features Offers a deep analysis of one of the few districts that is making progress toward true integration Examines a local story that has wide applicability to those interested in social justice enlightened leadership and equitable educational opportunities for all students Employs qualitative and quantitative research along with GIS mapping to study the legal educational political historical and sociological dimensions of the case study Provides a series of lessons learned from the Morris School District that will assist those engaged in building equitable school systems

The Borderlands of Education Michelle Madsen Camacho, Susan M. Lord, 2013-03-22 This innovative work critically studies the contemporary problems of one segment of science technology engineering and math STEM education The lack of a diverse U S based pool of talent entering the field of engineering education has been termed a crisis by academic and political leaders Engineering remains one of the most sex segregated academic arenas the intersection of gendered and racialized exclusion results in very few Latina engineers Drawing on cutting edge scholarship in gender and Latino studies the book provides an analytically incisive view of the experiences of Latina engineers Sponsored by the National Science Foundation through a Gender in Science and Engineering grant the authors bridge interdisciplinary perspectives to illuminate the nuanced and multiple exclusionary forces that shape the culture of engineering A large multi institution longitudinal dataset permits disaggregation by race and gender The authors rely on primary and secondary sources and incorporate an integrated mixed methods approach combining quantitative and qualitative data Together this analysis of the voices of Latina engineering majors breaks new ground in the literature on STEM education and provides an exemplar for future research on subpopulations in these fields This book is aimed at researchers who study underrepresented groups in engineering and are interested in broadening participation and ameliorating problems of exclusion It will be attractive to scholars in the fields of multicultural and higher education sociology cultural anthropology cultural studies and feminist technology studies and all researchers interested in the intersections of STEM race and gender This resource will be useful for policy makers and educational leaders looking to revitalize and re envision the culture within engineering
