Creation: "Behold, it was very good." Richard Schaefer,2019-10-28 Author Richard A Schaefer was a lifelong communicator fascinated by stories and like any good journalist dug for the facts and verified sources exploring nagging questions such as Is creation or evolution more credible based on science and expert opinions This book truly represented a personal passion of looking at all sides of the CREATION vs EVOLUTION issue He called on many experts and theorists including Charles Darwin himself Surprisingly Darwin was far more skeptical of his own theories than are many PhDs today and admitted to significant holes in his logic Read for yourself as great thinkers explore the pros and cons of both theories and their variants The Art of Teaching Science Jack Hassard,Michael Dias,2013-07-04 The Art of Teaching Science emphasizes a humanistic experiential and constructivist approach to teaching and learning and integrates a wide variety of pedagogical learning tools These tools involve inquiry and experimentation reflection through writing and discussion as well as experiences with students science curriculum and pedagogy Becoming a science teacher is a creative process and this innovative textbook encourages students to construct ideas about science teaching through their interactions with peers professionals and instructors and through hands on minds on activities designed to foster a collaborative thoughtful learning environment Philosophy of Science and Race Naomi Zack,2014-04-23 First published in 2003 In this concisely argued short new book well known philosopher Naomi Zack explores the scientific and philosophical problems in applying a biological conception of race to human beings Through the systematic analysis of up to date data and conclusions in population genetics transmission genetics and biological anthropology Zack provides a comprehensive conceptual account of how race in the ordinary sense has no basis in science Her book combats our everyday understanding of race as a scientifically supported taxonomy of human beings and in conclusion challenges us to be clear about what we mean by race and what it would require to remedy racism Karl Popper: Philosophy of science 2 Anthony O'Hear,2004 Born in Austria Karl Popper 1902 1994 was one of the dominant philosophical thinkers of the 20th century A ground breaking thinker he saw the essence of true science as being the readiness to submit theories to severe testing and to reject them when refuted by test His first major book in 1935 The Logic of Scientific Discovery marked him as a major analyst of science and was to have an enormous influence on the way people including major scientists came to think about the field This collection is a timely assessment of the reactions to and abiding influence of Popper's work and the controversy it caused across many academic and political fields. The set includes early responses to Popper's work from sources difficult to obtain and also two early reviews by Carnap and Grelling in translations specially prepared for this set. It is organised thematically and includes a substantial new introduction by the editor.
