To Sing of War Catherine McKinnon, 2024-05 From the author of the Miles Franklin Award shortlisted Storyland comes a rich layered and thrilling novel of love war and friendship To Sing of War Transcends the boundaries of historical fiction Books Publishing

DECEMBER 1944 In New Guinea a young Australian nurse Lotte Wyld chances upon her first love Virgil Nicholson a soldier in the Allies hard fought jungle campaign At Los Alamos in the United States idealistic physicists Miriam Carver and Fred Johnson join Robert Oppenheimer and a team of brilliant scientists in a collective dream to build a weapon that will stop all war while Kitty Oppenheimer wrestles with restrictions on her freedom And on the sacred island of Miyajima in Japan Hiroko Narushima is doing her best to protect her family Each of these people yearns to belong yet each fiercely protects their independence Secrets misunderstandings and fears burden them shame shapes them hope and imagination lift them up They are caught in a moment of history both enthralled and appalled by actions they must undertake A beautiful rich and intricately woven novel To Sing of War asks how one person can make a difference in a world that is wondrous thrilling and endangered. It insists on our interconnectedness, hums with the energy of the world and is a blazingly powerful and deeply moving account of friendship, love and war. Griffith Review 54 Julianne Schultz, 2016-10-31. Griffith Review once again turns its attention to the fast growing novella form with its annual edition dedicated to the five winning entries from our fourth novella competition. Past editions have featured both outstanding established writers and emerging talent with some novellas going on to be developed into published novels. The novellas that emerge from our competition. Cate Kennedy writes are short enough to consume like a single satisfying meal, long enough to linger over with coffee, they deliver us into worlds we don't expect and have a hard time forgetting. For sheer invention and range the authors showcase the vitality and scope of the short form to create dynamic visceral and memorable worlds. Or as British author David Mitchell commented, I like the length of a novella. It's short enough to be a getaway car from the cops of boredom. Storyland Catherine McKinnon, 2017-04-01. An ambitious remarkable and moving novel about who we are, our past, present and future and our connection to this land. SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2018 MILES FRANKLIN LITERARY AWARD. Storyland is a worthy contender for the Great Australian Novel encompassing ambitious Readings. In 1796 a young cabin boy Will Martin goes on a voyage of discovery in the Tom Thumb with Matthew Flinders and Mr Bass, two men and a boy in a tiny boat on an exploratory journey south from Sydney Cove to the Illawarra, full of hope and dreams, daring and fearfulness. Set on the banks of Lake Illawarra and spanning four centuries, Storyland is a unique and compelling novel of people and place which tells in essence the story of Australia. Told in an unfurling narrative of interlinking stories in a style reminiscent of David Mitchell's Cloud Atlas, McKinnon weaves together the stories of Will Martin together with the stories of four others: a desperate ex convict Hawker who commits an act of terrible brutality; Lola who in 1900 runs a dairy farm on the Illawarra with her brother and sister when they come under suspicion for a crime they did not commit; Bel, a young girl who goes on a rafting adventure with her friends in 1998 and is unexpectedly caught up in violent events; and in 2033 Nada who sees her world start to crumble apart. Intriguingly, all these characters are all connected, not only through the same land and water they inhabit over the decades but also by tendrils of blood, history, memory and property. Compelling, thrilling and ambitious, Storyland is our story, the story of Australia. The land is a book waiting to be read, as one of the characters says, and this novel tells us an unforgettable and unputdownable story of our history, our present and our future. Storyland has been shortlisted for the 2018 Miles Franklin Award, the Barbara Jefferis Award and the Voss Award. A beautifully woven story, a devastating retelling of man's effect on the land and the native people and offers a chilling insight into what may come to pass with climate change. Storyland is reminiscent of Patrick White's A Fringe of Leaves, Kate Grenville's The Secret River and The Lieutenant and even dare I say a bit of Tim Winton's Cloudstreet. Books Publishing. Impressive, a haunted and haunting power. The Australian. Breathtaking, simply stunning. Herald Sun. This is a book I will return to multiple times, both for its beauty and subtlety and for the sheer pleasure of experiencing the world it reflects Otago Daily Times It just might be the real story of Australia Qantas Magazine
