Region Simon Richards, Robert Schmidt III, Cagri Sanliturk, Falli Palaiologou, 2023-07-28 This book explores how the concept of region has evolved over time and shaped architectural culture and practice It questions what the words region and regional mean for architecture cities and landscapes past and present and speculates on the forms they might take in the future Region is explored in many thematic guises as a real geographical site of evolving socio economic activity as a mythical locus of enduring value as a gatekeeper of indigenous crafts and vernacular techniques as a site of architectural and artistic imagination as a repository of contested conflicted and mobile identities The contributing chapters take these themes from the theoretical and literary page through to architectural and urban practice and from the scale of the domestic hearth through to the ocean archipelago and international law enriching the long standing trope of viewing architectural regionalism purely as a matter of style Curated into four key thematic areas Theorised Regions Contested Regions Heritage Regions and Future Regions the book incorporates the values concerns and approaches of a truly diverse international community of scholars curators and practitioners as well as the design work of international students tasked to explore what region means to them Hawaiian Modern Vladimir Ossipoff, Marc Treib, 2007-01-01 At the forefront of the postwar phenomenon known as tropical modernism Vladimir Ossipoff 1907 1998 won recognition as the master of Hawaiian architecture Although he practiced at a time of rapid growth and social change in Hawaii Ossipoff criticized large scale development and advocated environmentally sensitive designs developing a distinctive form of architecture appropriate to the lush topography light and microclimates of the Hawaiian islands This book is the first to focus on Ossipoff's career presenting significant new material on the architect and situating him within the tropical modernist movement and the cultural context of the Pacific region The authors discuss how Ossipoff synthesized Eastern and Western influences including Japanese building techniques and modern architectural principles In particular they demonstrate that he drew inspiration from the interplay of indoor and outdoor space as advocated by such architects as Frank Lloyd Wright applying these to the concerns and vernacular traditions of the tropics The result was a vibrant and glamorous architectural style captured vividly in archival images and new photography As the corporate projects and private residences that Ossipoff created for such clients as IBM Punahou School Linus Pauling Jr and Clare Boothe Luce surpass their fiftieth anniversaries critical assessment of these structures offered here by distinguished scholars in the field will illuminate Ossipoff's contribution to the universal challenge of making architecture that is delightfully particular to its place and durable over time Architectural Conservation in Asia John H. Stubbs, Robert G. Thomson, 2016-11-10 At a time when organized heritage protection in Asia is developing at a rapid pace Architectural Conservation in Asia provides the first comprehensive overview of architectural conservation practice from Afghanistan to the Philippines The country by country analysis adopted by the book draws out local insights experiences best practice and solutions for effective cultural heritage management that will inform study and practice both in Asia and beyond Whereas architectural conservation in much of the Western world has been extensively documented this book brings together coverage of many regions where architectural conservation has been understudied Following on from the highly influential companion volumes on global architectural conservation and architectural conservation in Europe and the Americas with this book the authors extend their pioneering global examination to the dynamic and evolving field of architectural conservation in Asia Throughout the book the authors and regional experts provide local case studies and profile topics that bring depth and insight to this ambitious study As architectural conservation becomes increasingly global in practice this book will be of considerable assistance to architectural conservation practitioners site managers and students of architecture planning

Philosophy of Gardens David E. Cooper,2006-02-02 Why do gardens matter so much and mean so much to people That is the intriguing question to which David Cooper seeks an answer in this book Given the enthusiasm for gardens in human civilization ancient and modern Eastern and Western it is surprising that the question has been so long neglected by modern philosophy Now at last there is a philosophy of gardens Not only is this a fascinating subject in its own right it also provides a reminder that the subject matter of aesthetics is broader than the fine arts that ethics is not just about moral issues but about the good life and that environmental philosophy should not focus only on wilderness to the exclusion of the humanly shaped environment David Cooper identifies garden appreciation as a special human phenomenon distinct from both from the appreciation of art and the appreciation of nature He explores the importance of various garden practices and shows how not only gardening itself but activities to which the garden especially lends itself including social and meditative activities contribute to the good life And he distinguishes the many kinds of meanings that gardens may have from representation of nature to emotional expression from historical significance to symbolization of a spiritual relationship to the world Building on the familiar observation that among human beings creations the garden is peculiarly dependent on the co operation of nature Cooper argues that the garden matters as an epiphany of an intimate co dependence between human creative activity in the world and the mystery that allows there to be a world for them at all A Philosophy of Gardens will open up this subject to students and scholars of aesthetics ethics and cultural and environmental studies and to anyone with a reflective interest in things horticultural The Architecture of Natural Cooling Brian Ford,Rosa Schiano-Phan,Juan A. Vallejo,2019-11-15

Overheating in buildings is commonplace This book describes how we can keep cool without conventional air conditioning improving comfort and productivity while reducing energy costs and carbon emissions It provides architects engineers and policy makers with a how to guide to the application of natural cooling in new and existing buildings It demonstrates through reference to numerous examples that natural cooling is viable in most climates around the world This completely revised and expanded second edition includes An overview of natural cooling past and present Guidance on the principles and strategies that can be adopted A review of the applicability of different strategies Explanation of simplified tools for performance assessment A review of components and controls A detailed evaluation of case studies from the USA Europe India and China This book is not just for the technical specialist as it also provides a general grounding in how to avoid or minimise air conditioning Importantly it demonstrates that understanding our environment rather than fighting it will help us to live sustainably in our rapidly warming world Elephant Complex John Gimlette,2016-02-16

No one sees the world quite like John Gimlette As The New York Times once noted he writes with enormous wit indignation and a heightened sense of the absurd Writing for both the adventurer and the armchair traveler he has an eye for unusually telling detail a sense of wonder and compelling curiosity for the inside story This time he travels to Sri Lanka a country only now emerging from twenty six years of civil war Delving deep into the nation s story Gimlette provides us with an astonishing multifaceted portrait of the island today His travels reveal the country as never before Beginning in the exuberant capital Colombo a hint of anarchy everywhere he ventures out in all directions to the dry zones where the island s 5 800 wild elephants congregate around ancient reservoirs through cinnamon country with its Portuguese forts to the Bible Belt of Buddhism the tsunami ravaged southeast coast then up into the great green highlands the garden in the sky and Kandy the country s eccentric aristocratic Shangri la Along the way a wild and often desperate history takes shape a tale of great colonies Arab Portuguese British and Dutch and of the cultural divisions that still divide this society Before long we re in Jaffna and the Vanni crucibles of the recent conflict These areas the hottest driest and least hospitable have been utterly devastated by war and are only now struggling to their feet But this is also a story of friendship and remarkable encounters In the course of his journey Gimlette meets farmers war heroes ancient tribesmen world class cricketers terrorists a former president old planters survivors of great massacres and perhaps some of their perpetrators That s to say nothing of the island s beguiling fauna elephants crocodiles snakes storks and the greatest concentration of leopards on Earth Here is a land of extravagant beauty and profound devastation of ingenuity and catastrophe possessed of both a volatile past and an uncertain future a place capable of being at once heavenly and hellish all brought to vibrant fascinating life here on the page The Courtyard House NasserO. Rabbat,2017-07-05 The courtyard house is one of the most enduring architectural forms transcending regional historical and cultural boundaries Its balance of simple appropriate construction environmental control and social and familial structures continues to engage architects and architectural historians That the courtyard house is still relevant today is indicated through its ability to accommodate continual transformation without losing any of its formal integrity and cultural roots This book presents a series of viewpoints on courtyard houses from different periods and in different regions around the world from the Harem courtyards of the Topkapi Palace and the low cost housing settlements of Protectorate Casablanca to contemporary design strategies for courtyard houses in the arid Gulf region Together the essays illuminate issues of particular relevance in architectural art historical and conservation discourses today Postcolonialism Tariq Jazeel,2019-02-22 Postcolonialism is a book that examines the influence of postcolonial theory in critical geographical thought and scholarship Aimed at advanced level students and researchers the book is a lively stimulating and relevant introduction to postcolonial geography that elaborates on the critical interventions in social cultural and political life this important subfield is poised to make The book is structured around three intersecting parts Spaces Identity hybridity Knowledge that broadly follow the trajectory of postcolonial studies since the late 1970s It comprises ten main chapters each of which is situated at the intersections of postcolonialism and critical human geography In doing so Postcolonialism develops three key arguments First that postcolonialism is best conceived as an intellectually creative and practical set of methodologies or approaches for critically engaging existing manifestations of power and exclusion in everyday life and in taken as given spaces Second that postcolonialism is at its core concerned with the politics of representation both in terms of how people and space are represented but also the politics surrounding who is able to represent themselves and on what whose terms Third the book argues that postcolonialism itself is an inherently geographical intellectual enterprise despite its origins in literary theory In developing these arguments and addressing a series of relevant and international case studies and examples throughout Postcolonialism not only demonstrates the importance of postcolonial theory to the contemporary critical geographical imagination It also argues that geographers have much to offer to continued theorizations and workings of postcolonial theory politics and intellectual debates going forward This is a book that brings critical analyses of the continued and omnipresent legacies of colonialism and imperialism to the heart of human geography but also one that returns an avowedly critical geographical disposition to the core of interdisciplinary postcolonial studies The Environmental Brief Richard Hyde,Steve Watson,York St John Business School Steve Watson,Wendy Cheshire,Mark Thomson,2007-01-24 The built environment is responsible for an estimated forty five per cent of all greenhouse gas emissions As the greatest opportunities for reducing these emissions occur during the briefing and design processes the pathway to better design lies in preparing environmental briefs and using these to drive building design and produce buildings of high environmental performance This process driven book looks at the theoretical issues involved in an environmental brief and outlines methods by which architects can approach the writing of a brief that considers all aspects of the natural and the built environment and relates these concepts to a number of case studies from around the world Flow Penny Sparke, Patricia Brown, Patricia Lara-Betancourt, Gini Lee, Mark Taylor, 2018-07-12 Flow combines cutting edge scholarship with practitioner perspectives to address the concept of flow and how it connects interiors landscapes and buildings expanding on traditional notions of architectural prominence Contributors explore the transitional and intermediary relationships between inside outside Through a range of case studies authors extend the notion of flow beyond the western industrialised world and embrace a wider geography while engaging with the specificity of climate and place Accompanied by stunning colour illustration and photography Flow brings together historical theoretical and practice based approaches to consider themes of nature mobility continuity and frames The City in South Asia James

Heitzman, 2008-03-31 The macro region of South Asia including Bangladesh India Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka today supports one of the world's greatest concentrations of cities but as James Heitzman argues in the first comprehensive treatment of urban South Asia this has been the case for at least 5 000 years With a strong emphasis on the production of space and periodic excursions into literature art and architecture religion and public culture this interdisciplinary study is a valuable text for students and scholars interested in comparative history urban studies and the social sciences The Routledge Companion to Critical Approaches to Contemporary Architecture Swati Chattopadhyay, Jeremy White, 2019-08-01 The Routledge Companion to Critical Approaches to Contemporary Architecture convenes a wide array of critical voices from architecture art history urbanism geography anthropology media and performance studies computer science bio engineering environmental studies and sociology that help us understand the meaning and significance of global architecture of the twenty first century New chapters by 36 contributors illustrated with over 140 black and white images are assembled in six parts concerning both real and virtual spaces design materiality alterity technologies cityscapes and practice

Eco-Cultural Networks and the British Empire James Beattie, Edward Melillo, Emily O'Gorman, 2014-12-18 19th century British imperial expansion dramatically shaped today's globalised world Imperialism encouraged mass migrations of people shifting flora fauna and commodities around the world and led to a series of radical environmental changes never before experienced in history Eco Cultural Networks and the British Empire explores how these networks shaped ecosystems cultures and societies throughout the British Empire and how they were themselves transformed by local and regional conditions This multi authored volume begins with a rigorous theoretical analysis of the categories of empire and imperialism Its chapters written by leading scholars in the field draw methodologically from recent studies in environmental history post colonial theory and the history of science Together these perspectives provide a comprehensive historical understanding of how the British Empire reshaped the globe during the 19th and 20th centuries This book will be an important addition to the literature on British imperialism and global ecological change
