Globalization Difference And Human Security:

Globalization, Difference, and Human Security Mustapha Kamal Pasha, 2013-10-23 Globalization Difference and Human Security seeks to advance critical human security studies by re framing the concept of human security in terms of the thematic of difference Drawing together a wide range of contributors the volume is framed among others around the following key questions What are the silences and erasures of advancing a critical human security alternative without making recognition of difference its central plank How do we rethink the complex interplay of human security and difference in distinct and varied spatial and cultural settings produced by global forces What is the nexus between human security and the broader field of global development What new challenges to Human Security and International Relations are produced with the rise of the post liberal or post secular subject In what ways releasing human security from identification with the territorial state helps reconceptualize culture How does Human Security serve as a subspecies of modern humanitarian thought or the latter reinforce imperial imaginaries and the structures of order and morality Is the pursuit of indigenous rights fundamentally counterpoised to the pursuit of human security What difference it might make to take the doings and beings of communities of subsistence rather than basic needs wealth seeking individuals as a point of departure in critical human security studies How does reconstruction bind post war and post disaster states and societies into the global capitalist democratic political structure

Globalization, Development and Human Security Anthony G. McGrew, Nana K. Poku, 2007-02-12 Whether globalization development and human security are inescapably trapped within a vicious circle or a virtuous circle is the central concern of this book

Globalization, Competitiveness and Human Security Cristóbal Kay, 2012-10-12 This collection explores the connections between globalization competitiveness and human security and their relevance for development studies These issues amongst others are also explored in a number of case studies taken from Asia Africa and Latin America

Globalization, Human Security, and the African Experience Caroline Thomas, Peter Wilkin, 1999 Eleven contributions explore security from a human rather than a state perspective and illustrate this by drawing on case material from sub Saharan Africa They offer an alternative to the realist state centered militaristic male dominated terrain of orthodox security and strategic studies and study such issues as feminist perspectives justice economic genocide in Rwanda security in the new world order and the erosion of the state and the decline of race Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Religion, Identity and Human Security Giorgio Shani, 2014-04-03 Religion Identity and Human Security seeks to demonstrate that a major source of human insecurity comes from the failure of states around the world to recognize the increasing cultural diversity of their populations which has resulted from globalization Shani begins by setting out the theoretical foundations dealing with the transformative effects of globalization on identity violence and security The second part of the volume then draws on different cases of sites of human insecurity around the globe to develop these ideas examining themes such as securitization of religious symbols retreat from multiculturalism rise of exclusivist ethno religious identities post 9 11 state religion colonization and the racialization of migration Highlighting that religion can be a source of both human security and insecurity in a globalizing world Shani offers a critical human security paradigm that seeks to de secularize the individual by recognizing the culturally contested and embedded nature of human identities The work argues that religion serves an important role in re embedding individuals deracinated from their communities by neo liberal globalization and will be of interest to students of International Relations Security Studies and Religion and Politics

Globalization and Human Security Paul Battersby, Joseph M. Siracusa, 2009-03-16 This concise text presents a focused well rounded and clear eyed introduction to the concept of human security Questioning the utility of traditional national security frameworks in the post Cold War era Paul Battersby and Joseph M Siracusa argue that we must urgently reconsider the principle of state sovereignty in a global world where threats to humanity are beyond the capacity of any one nation to address through unilateral action The authors highlight circumstances actors and influences beyond the traditional focus on state security especially the role of international organizations and nongovernmental organizations They also emphasize the importance of human rights arguing for the development of an effective intervention capacity to protect individuals from state action as well as other security threats arising from conflict poverty disease and environmental degradation A welcome alternative to state centric approaches to security this balanced book will be a valuable supplement for courses in international and national security

Critical Perspectives on Human Security David Chandler, Nik Hynek, 2010-09-13 This new book presents critical approaches towards Human Security which has become one of the key areas for policy and academic debate within Security Studies and IR The Human Security paradigm has had considerable significance for academics policy makers and practitioners Under the rubric of Human Security security policy practices seem to have transformed their goals and approaches re prioritising economic and social welfare issues that were marginal to the state based geo political rivalries of the Cold War era Human Security has reflected and reinforced the reconceptualisation of international security both broadening and deepening it and in so doing it has helped extend and shape the space within which security concerns inform international policy practices However in its wider use Human Security has become an amorphous and unclear political concept seen by some as progressive and radical and by others as tainted by association with the imposition of neo liberal practices and values on non Western spaces or as legitimizing attacks on Iraq and Afghanistan This book is concerned with critical perspectives towards Human Security highlighting some of the tensions which can emerge between critical perspectives which discursively radicalise Human Security within frameworks of emancipatory possibility and those which attempt to deconstruct Human Security within the framework of an externally imposed attempt to regulate and order the globe on behalf of hegemonic power The chapters gathered in this edited collection represent a range of critical approaches which bring together alternative understandings of human security This book will be of great interest to students of human security studies and critical security studies war and conflict studies and international relations Environmental and Human Security in the Arctic Gunhild Hoogensen Gjørsv, Dawn Bazely, Marina Goloviznina, Andrew Tanentzap, 2013-10-08 This is the first comprehensive exploration of why human security is relevant to the Arctic and what achieving it can mean covering the areas of health of the environment identity of peoples supply of traditional foods community health economic opportunities and political stability The traditional definition of security has already been actively employed in the Arctic region for decades particularly in relation to natural resource sovereignty issues but how and why should the human aspect be introduced What can this region teach us about human security in the wider world The book reviews the potential threats to security putting them in an analytical framework and indicating a clear path for solutions Contributions come from natural social and humanities scientists hailing from Canada Russia Finland and Norway Environmental Change and Human Security in the Arctic is an essential resource for policy makers community groups researchers and students working in the field of human security particularly for those in the Arctic regions

Rethinking the Security-Development Nexus Sasha Jespersen, 2016-12-01 This book critically examines the security development nexus through an analysis of organised crime responses in post conflict states As the trend has evolved the security development nexus has received significant attention from policymakers as a new means to address security threats Integrating the traditionally separate areas of security and development the nexus has been promoted as a new strategy to achieve a comprehensive people centred approach Despite the enthusiasm behind the security development nexus it has received significant criticism This book investigates four tensions that influence the integration of security and development to understand why it has failed to live up to expectations The book compares two case studies of internationally driven initiatives to address organised crime as part of post conflict reconstruction in Sierra Leone and Bosnia Examination of the tensions reveals that actors addressing organised crime have attempted to move away from a security approach resulting in incipient integration between security and development but barriers remain Rather than discarding the nexus this book explores its unfulfilled potential This book will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies development studies criminology security studies and IR in general

Human Security and Sustainable Development in East Africa Jeremiah O. Asaka, Alice A. Oluoko-Odingo, 2022-05-23 This book investigates contemporary human security issues in East Africa setting forth policy recommendations and a research agenda for future studies Human security takes a people centered rather than state centered approach to security issues focusing on whether people feel safe free from fear want and indignity This book investigates human security in East Africa encompassing issues as diverse as migration housing climate change displacement food security aflatoxins land rights and peace and conflict resolution In particular the book showcases innovative original research from African scholars based on the continent and abroad and together the contributors provide policy recommendations and set forth a human security research agenda for East Africa which encompasses Kenya Uganda Tanzania Somalia Rwanda Burundi South Sudan Sudan Ethiopia Eritrea and Djibouti As well as being useful for policy makers and practitioners this book will interest researchers across African Studies Security Studies Environmental Studies Political Science Global Governance International Relations and Human Geography The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
